EXERCISES OF GRADUATION IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Large Classes Graduated by Local Grammar Schools
Today—Exercises Held in School Halls—Morey School Graduation to Be Held This Evening

Graduation exercises of six public elementary schools and the Girls' Vocational school were held this morning in the respective school halls and were largely attended by relatives of the graduates and invited guests.

The exercises were similar to those of former years and consisted mainly of songs and recitations by members of the graduating class and the presentation of diplomas by a member of the school committee.

This evening in the Cyrus W. Irish auditorium, the final public elementary school graduation will be held when the Charles W. Morey school will graduate one of the largest classes in its history.

The public schools are scheduled to close tomorrow but the final session of the high school was held yesterday and regular sessions in the grammar and primary schools have not been held.

LT. MAUGHAN REACHES GOAL

Writes New and Spectacular Chapter in History of Man's Conquest of Air

Army Flyer Spans North American Continent in Less Than a Day

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24 (By the Associated Press).—Lieut. Russell L. Maughan wrote a new and spectacular chapter in the history of man's conquest of the air yesterday, when he spanned the North American continent in less than a day.

The hazardous and grueling flight was his third attempt. He left Mitchell Field, New York, at 2:59 a. m. (eastern standard time), halted briefly at five refueling stations en route across mountains and plains, fought fatigue and constantly recurring nausea for 21 hours, 47 minutes, 45 seconds and arrived at Crissy Field, San Francisco, at 9:47:15 o'clock (Pacific time), last night.

Unparalleled Ovation
Worn and nervous from his long and bitter struggle with the perils of the air and the illness which had gripped him, the courageous trail blazer was engulfed in a cheering, wildly excited mass of humanity which extended to

Gov. Flynn Calls G. O. P.

Members Who Fled From the State "Outlaws"

Senate Reconvenes to Resume Proceedings Halted by Gas Attack

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 24.—Before the Rhode Island senate reconvened today to resume its proceedings where they were broken off by disorder and gas fumes in the senate chamber last week, Gov. William S. Flynn issued a statement in which he described the republican senators now at Rutland, Mass., as "fugitives from the law of the state," and "outlaws." Commenting on a statement issued by the senators at Rutland, last night, to the effect that they would not return to the senate chamber until assured "that orderly and constitutional methods of parliamentary procedure will be restored," the governor accused them of uttering "defamatory remarks against their state."

"The people of this state," he said, "will continue peacefully to carry on their affairs and conduct themselves in the orderly manner for which they are noted."

NON-AGGRESSION PACTS FIRST

France's Securities Guaranteed, Then "a Sort of Moral Disarmament of Europe"

Move to Follow Settlement of Questions Now Keeping France and Germany Apart

PARIS, June 24.—How France's security is to be guaranteed and then a sort of moral disarmament of Europe obtained as explained by Premier Herriot to the British prime minister, is described in telegrams from Brussels where M. Herriot has gone to consult Premier Thunis. Pacts of non-aggression between France, England, Belgium and Italy are the first step. It is stated; then comes the admission of Germany to the League of Nations, leading to a general pact of mutual assistance under the aegis of the league.

M. Herriot is credited with the intention of instituting this program when the international tension relaxes following settlement of the questions now keeping France and Germany apart.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE MEETING POSTPONED

Due to the large number of school graduations today the school committee will not meet in regular session tonight as scheduled. The next session of the board will be held at 5 o'clock on Friday afternoon, at which time the list of summer instructors will probably come up for approval.

Smith and McAdoo Managers Claim Steady Gains as Convention Opens

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, June 24.—The democratic national convention came to order for its first session at 12.43 o'clock. After delaying the opening to allow the police to straighten a traffic jam outside which was keeping hundreds of delegates and visitors from the hall, Chairman Hull, looking refreshed after his attack of exhaustion and heat stroke, brought down the gavel. In brief words he called the great assembly to order and gave way to Cardinal Hayes, who offered the invocation. The great audience stood in silent reverence as the voice of the prelate penetrated to the furthest part of the big garden.

At the conclusion of the prayer the band struck up "The Star Spangled Banner" and from the recesses of the thousands of little American flags were released and fluttered down over the heads and shoulders of the delegates.

Then while the band softly played the national anthem, Anna Case of the Metropolitan Opera company sang it, and the great audience joined in the refrain.

BROCKTON W. U. MAN-AGER KILLED IN GARAGE

BROCKTON, June 24.—H. Dowitt Wry, Brockton manager of the Western Union Telegraph Co., was killed this morning by carbon monoxide gas in his own garage. He had been on sick leave for some time and went to the garage to tinker with his car. He was found by a neighbor lying on the floor of the garage with his head near the engine and the engine of his car running. Efforts to resuscitate him with respirator and oxygen were unavailing.

He leaves a wife and four-year-old daughter.

DIRECT SENTENCE IMPOSED IN LOCAL LARCENY CASE

Defendant Found Guilty of Larceny From Shoe Company is Sentenced to House of Correction—Cobbler Fined for Receiving Stolen Goods

Albert S. Morin, 30, was arraigned in district court this morning charged with the larceny of 50 pairs of leather shoes, valued at 40 cents each, the property of the John Pilling Shoe Co., where he was employed. He was found guilty and ordered committed to the house of correction for a term of four months, Judge Enright saying that he wished to make an example of him.

In connection with the same case, Francis X. Daigle and Arthur J. Dubois, Merrimack street cobblers, were fined $50 each for receiving stolen goods. They were charged with buying the leather shoes from Morin at a cost of 20 cents a pair.

Morin was arrested as he left his work last evening. Lieut. Martin Maher and Sergt. Philip Dwyer made the arrest when they inspected a bag carried by defendant and found to contain several pairs of shoes. When questioned at police headquarters Morin confessed to the thefts, saying they had been going on periodically for five or six months. He also admitted selling the goods to Daigle and Dubois.

FEDERAL TAXES REPEALED ON ITEMS IN COMMON USE

Internal Revenue Bureau Announces Exemption of Telegrams, Phone Messages, Theatre Admissions, Soft Drinks and Many Other Articles Used by Public at Large

Good news from your Uncle Sam to all the folks who pay the nation's taxes. And this means the folks in Lowell and vicinity and all over.

Addition benefits to taxpayers under the revenue act passed by the last congress, have just been announced by the bureau of internal revenue.

In addition to the 25 per cent refund or credit due each taxpayer on net income tax return for the year 1923, certain taxes are repealed by the act, while others are reduced. The effective dates of these benefits are:

6.01 p. m., Washington time, June 2, 1924.

The Sun presents herewith a copy of the official changes repealing taxes on many items of common use. In summarizing additional benefits, the bureau makes the following statement:

"The tax on telegraph and telephone messages, 5 cents for the transmission of a message, the charge for which is 14 cents and not more than 50 cents, when the act was passed, or on the expiration of thirty days after its enactment, which will be midnight, July 2, 1924."

The act repeals the tax on the use of the telephone for the transmission of a message, the charge for which is 14 cents and not more than 50 cents, when the act was passed, or on the expiration of thirty days after its enactment, which will be midnight, July 2, 1924."

Two Boys Arrested After Exciting Chase Are Arraigned in District Court

Fred Rourke and Melvin Willette, the two youths who were arrested last night after an exciting motor chase from North Billerica to Appleton street, this city, and charged with breaking and entering and larceny, were called in district court this morning, and each was continued in $1000 until June 27.

The young men are alleged to have stolen the touring car of Joseph H. Warren from a garage in Sutter avenue last night. When the theft was reported to the police, Motorcycle Officer Frank Murphy set out on the trail of the missing car. In North Billerica, the machine was seen heading back to Lowell, and a merry chase ensued between pursued and pursuer. At Appleton street, Officer James Garrity brought the stolen machine to a halt and arrested the occupants.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR A. O. H. REUNION

Final arrangements for the big reunion of A.O.H. divisions of Middlesex county at the Working Boys' home in Newton, were made at a well-attended and enthusiastic meeting of Div. 5, A.O.H. of this city in the Grosvenor building last evening. President James McManmon was in the chair and announced that the local party will leave for Newton in trucks next Sunday. The trucks will be stationed in Paige street and will make their departure at 8:45 o'clock in the morning. The transportation committee will be on hand to supervise matters and accommodations will be available for all members and their friends. It is expected that the last truck will leave at 10:30 o'clock.

An elaborate program of sports and entertainment will await the guests at the Working Boys' home. The first events will get under way at 2:30 sharp. A football game between Lowell and Malden promises to be one of the many features. The return trip, it is planned, will start at 6 o'clock.

TRANS-CONTINENTAL AIRMAIL SERVICE

CHICAGO, June 24.—Day and night trans-continental airmail services, scheduled to start July 1, will mark the world's first comprehensive effort to present aviation as a business service, said Col. Paul Henderson, second assistant postmaster general, outlining plans here.

Next Tuesday at 6 a. m., Pacific time, one plane will leave San Francisco and at 10 a. m., eastern time, another will leave New York on the 2680 mile route of the trans-continental airmail. The scheduled time westward bound is 34 hours, 45 minutes, and eastward bound 32 hours, five minutes.

More than half the distance will be illuminated for night flying. The night flight area is divided into three sections: Cleveland to Chicago, Chicago to Cheyenne and Cheyenne to Rock Springs, Wyo. Only the center section will be lighted during the night. As the days shorten, electric and acetylene gas rays will take the place of the retreating sun on the east and west wings, until there will remain for the daylight hours only the Sierras in the west and Alleghenies in the east.

The line has been divided into three postal zones. New York-Chicago-Cheyenne, and Cheyenne-San Francisco, with rates of eight cents per ounce or fraction for each zone or part thereof. Letters may be mailed anywhere to be forwarded to the nearest airmail junction point. Airmail postage will suffice even if correspondence starts and ends off the air mail line.

Tri-colored red, white and blue letter boxes installed along the route signify the special service. Others are being installed in important cities on the route where arrangements have been made for quick transmission of mail to junction points for transfer to air plane.

ANNUAL RECEPTION AND DANCING PARTY

The Chelmsford town hall presented a gay and pretty scene last evening, the occasion being the annual reception and dancing party given by the high school alumni. The hall was tastefully decorated, rose and silver, the colors of the 1924 class, being predominant in the color scheme. The torchbearers devoted their full sway until the beginning of a new day and a fine light collation served to help make the evening a more pleasant one. The arrangements committee was composed of Dorothy Russell, Ida Paignon, Margaret Hall, Mildred Benn, Adella McEnaney and Raymond Kinch.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH

A letter of thanks from Lowell Post, American Legion, to the board of health for the stand of its members on the veterans' pay issue, raised after Memorial day was received and filed at yesterday's session of the board. Leave of absence for two months was granted Mary Douglas, health nurse, at her request. John E. Regan appeared for the Master Plumbers' association to complain against Joseph Gagnon for alleged violation of a plumbing permit and the matter was taken under advisement. The remaining business was of a routine nature.

AN OPEN LETTER TO WOMEN

Tells of Mrs. Vogel's Terrible Suffering and how she was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Detroit, Michigan.—"My troubles were severe pains in my back and bearing-down pains in my right side, also headaches and sleepless nights. I first began having troubles when I was 15, and they have increased as I grew older. A little booklet was left at my door, and I read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for women and decided to try it. After the first week I could go to sleep every night and I stopped having that nervous feeling and got a better appetite. The doctor had always said that an operation was the only thing that would help me, but I never had any faith in an operation. Since the Vegetable Compound has started helping me I do not suffer the severe pains, feel stronger, and am able to do my own work. I am more than glad to tell my friends that it helps where other medicines have failed."

Mrs. Gus Vogel, 8808 Pelouse St., Detroit, Michigan.

A record of fifty years' service must be shown of the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

PREMIER DANCERS AT LAKEVIEW

As an added attraction for this evening the management of the Lakeview ballroom has secured Audella and Byrne, premier dancing artists, who feature all Broadway's latest dance numbers. This team has met with tremendous success at the various summer resorts throughout New England and are sure to please.

The radio fans throughout the country have been pleasantly entertained by "Broderick's Entertainers," directed by H. G. Dunbar, as this team broadcasts twice weekly.

They will render all the latest hits tonight and the dancing will be by check.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
"Icebound," adapted from the stage play of the same name, which won the Pulitzer prize in 1923 as the best American drama produced that year, is being presented the first three days of the present week at the Merrimack Square theatre. Additional interest is added through the appearance in it as co-stars of Lois Wilson, who starred in "The Covered Wagon," and Richard Dix, who played the lead in "The Ten Commandments." An excellent supporting cast makes the picture one of the best Paramount releases of the current season.

As a second feature picture, Paramount also presents Walter Hiers' fast and snappy "The Martyr Sex," a comedy drama, depicting life in Rome, N.Y., where all is excitement in anticipation of the county fair.

"Icebound" is the story of "Ben Jordan," who comes away from his home after accidentally setting fire to a neighbor's barn. The world finds him in the service and while in France he meets the girl he eventually marries. The girl is Jane Crosby, the yard of Jordan's mother, and she later comes over to the old New England home. The Jordan money is left to Jane upon the death of Ben's mother.

er. Jane offers Ben Jordan a job and puts up the money necessary to pay for the barn destroyed by fire. The plot moves along rapidly and with a number of variations, but the final outcome is the best one, when Ben realizes his love for Jane and happiness follows.

"The Martyr Sex" picture goes into the county fair that in considerable detail and before it is finished Hiers is cast in the role of the town hero. He captured the man who robbed the bank and at the same time gets the girl of his dreams who had been influenced and deceived by the attentions of the robber. Walter does a balloon ascension and parachute drop that has a tinge of realism. The picture is principally comedy and there are many laughs for young and old.

A good chance for argument lies in the picture, "The Martyr Sex," which opened at the Hialto theatre yesterday. It opens the question, "Which is the Martyr Sex?" Of course, the women will say they are, and the men will say they are. But after all, when all is taken into consideration and after one sees this picture, one will positively say that the women are "The Martyr Sex."

The women who live in the larger cities with all the modern conveniences, such as theatres, automobiles, washing machines, etc., do not realize what their sisters in the far away mountains have to go through. They are "The Martyr Sex." In this picture we are given a glimpse of women's lot under ideal conditions of primitive life in the great majestic mountains. A mother and a daughter devote their lives to caring for a cabin full of rude men. Emotionally and mentally starved, they endure all things with patient acceptance of the lot they were born to. The refining influence of civilization comes in the person of a young doctor, who with instruments, rats and a rifle, operates in the entire family. But so strongly does the picture move one's sympathies for the women of this particular cabin, that one wonders what the oppressed and bullied womenkind of other cabins will do for saviors. This unusually powerful film, which has provoked a great deal of interest and discussion because of its stimulating theme, will continue at the Hialto today and tomorrow.

"For You My Boy," the added feature, is the story of a father's sacrifice and the dire consequences that followed an act, which he at the time thought was for the best interests of his motherless babe. But he was forced to stand at one side and see his boy grow to manhood without the right to guide him. In the end, however, the boy receives the heritage of his birthright and when the crisis comes in his life stands up to meet it in a manner

FUNERAL TODAY OF SISTER MADELEINE

The funeral of Sister Madeleine, a young and talented member of the Sisters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul, took place this morning from St. John's hospital, where the deceased nun had been stationed for 18 months as head of the bookkeeping department.

The funeral cortege, composed of the mother, brother, sister, near relatives and friends, proceeded to the immaculate Conception church, where a solemn high mass of requiem was sung at 10 o'clock by Rev. Owen P. McQuaid, O.M.I., assisted by Rev. Martin Norton, O.M.I., as deacon, and Rev. William Noonan, O.M.I., as sub-deacon.

Seated within the sanctuary during the impressive services were the following members of the clergy: Rev. Francis L. Shea, Rev. John M. Manion, Rev. Peter Larkin, Rev. John Kennedy, O.M.I., and Rev. Thomas J. Hoagney, while in attendance at the mass were the Sisters of Charity of two local community houses and a delegation from a Boston house; 50 St. John's hospital nurses in uniform, and the following members of the medical staff of the hospital: Dr. M. A. Tighe, Dr. J. B. O'Connor, Dr. Francis R. Mahony, Dr. Charles Roughan, Dr. Robert Jones, Dr. Fred Murphy, Dr. J. A. Mahan, Dr. William Ryan, Dr. James P. Loughran, Dr. George A. Leahy, and Dr. D. J. Ellison.

During the mass the choir rendered appropriate music under the direction of Charles P. Smith, with Miss Marion Ryan at the organ. At the offertory "Pie Jesu" was sung by Mrs. Alice Dacey Delmore, and after the elevation, Mr. Raymond Kelley rendered "O Meritum Patris."

After the body was being borne from the church, Mr. Kei-ley sang "Mother of the Way," Sister Madeleine's favorite hymn.

The bearers were Drs. F. F. Donahoe, R. A. Donahoe, Charles F. Lynch, John J. McNamara, A. E. Conway, P. W. Carrigan.

Burial was in the sisters' lot in St. Patrick's cemetery, where the "Benedictus" was chanted and the committal prayers read by Rev. Fr. McQuaid, Fr. Norton, Dr. Noonan, Fr. Shea, Fr. Manion, Fr. Larkin and Fr. Kennedy.

Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell & Sons.

GEN. DE LA HUERTA KILLED IN BATTLE

MEXICO CITY, June 24.—General Alfonso de la Huerta, brother of the rebel chieftain, has been killed in battle, according to a dispatch received by Senator Cristobal Castillo. Acting on instructions from Candido Aguilar, General De la Huerta attempted to capture Comitan, a small city in Chiapas, but was killed during a battle which lasted 14 hours. The rebels were completely dispersed, according to the dispatch, which does not mention the number of casualties.

KETTLE BOILS
Scientists are visiting the famous "Kettles" Kettle Point, Ont., trying to decide whether the rocks are of meteoric origin. Some say they are; others say they aren't. And while the row goes on, a religious sect is making the best of it, painting biblical tracts upon these freak spherical formations.

FOR BRITISH OPEN GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

HOYLAKE, England, June 24.—(By the Associated Press) MacDonald Smith, the lowest scoring American yesterday with a 72 in the qualifying play for the British open golf championship, took an 81 over the Royal Liverpool course today. His total of 153 is sure to place him among the field of 80 odd professionals and amateurs who will begin the 72 holes of actual championship play here Thursday.

Walter Hagen, who took 83 on the course here yesterday, went around in 78 over the Formby course today, giving him a total of 156, considered almost certain to qualify him for the championship play.

Hagen's fighting qualities were in evidence again in his uphill job, as a low scorer today after his poor round yesterday, was an absolute necessity if he hoped to qualify.

Gene Sarazen, American professional champion, who scored 75 at Formby yesterday, went out in 38 over 157.

WILLIAMS WINS OVER M'GUIRE IN SINGLES

WIMBLEDON, June 24 (by the Associated Press).—R. Norris Williams II, the American internationalist, defeated E. A. McGuire of England, in the men's singles of the Wimbledon lawn tennis tournament today, 6-1, 6-4, 6-2. Their match was postponed from yesterday to permit McGuire to play in the Irish championships.

The Royal Liverpool course this forenoon, and it seemed would have little difficulty in qualifying.

A. R. Espinosa of California scored 81 at Formby, giving him an aggregate of 164. E. R. Whitcombe, England, had 77 for an aggregate of 150. J. H. Taylor, who led the field yesterday with a seventy at Hoylake, did the Formby course in 75 this forenoon and his aggregate of 142 put him in the lead for the total score.

Gill Nicholas, Providence, 78; total 157.

NEW MASONIC TEMPLE

Corner Stone of $1,000,000
Building at Springfield
Laid Today

SPRINGFIELD, June 24.—The corner stone of the imposing new $1,000,000 Masonic temple was laid today by Grand Master Dudley H. Ferrell of Lynn, in the presence of the largest gathering in the local history of Free Masonry. More than 2500 representatives of lodges in western New England took part in the parade that preceded the ceremony, including Knights Templars, commanderies of this city, Holyoke and Hartford, Conn. Assisting the grand master in laying the corner stone were Mayor E. P. Leonard of this city and Mayor Norman E. Stevens of Hartford. At the conclusion of the ceremonies, the Templar commanderies held an outing in celebration of St. John's day.

MORE REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS REPORTED

The sale of two well known parcels of real estate in residential sections of the city is reported today through the office of T. H. Elliott company.

Mark J. McCann of the Prince-McCann company, has sold his modern 8-room English type bungalow at 10 Havilah street to Frederick H. Burwell of Winchester, who is now connected with the Bon Marche.

Included in the transfer was 1,643 square feet of land. The selling price is said to have been slightly in excess of $13,000.

A modernized four-apartment block at 135-137 School street has been sold

CAN'T BEAT "TIZ" WHEN FEET HURT

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "Tiz" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "Tiz" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "Tiz". It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "Tiz". It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture. A few cents buy a box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get, how comfortable your shoes feel—Adv.

Dear Sir—I wish to state that I have used Dr. Joslin's Ointment for my family a number of years and wish to inform you that I am never without it. I cannot speak too highly of it.

BRITAIN AND BELGIUM TO AID FRANCE

BRUSSELS, June 24.—Premier Herriot of France, who arrived here last evening after his conference with the British prime minister at Chequers court, has received assurance that Great Britain and Belgium will aid France, as it did in 1914, in case another unjustified attack is made upon her, he is quoted as declaring in an interview published by the Independent Belge.

"In case of premeditated aggression by Germany," he said, "I have the assurance of a defensive pact that would bind France, England and Belgium. I have the most formal promise that now, as in 1914, a German attack would find England standing with France and Belgium."

ALL HOPE OF BRITISH RECOGNITION GONE

EL PASO, Tex., June 24.—Mexican authorities by their conduct have defeated all hope of British recognition, H. A. Cummins, British agent who left Mexico City, after having denied an expulsion order of President Obregon, declared yesterday upon his arrival here to visit friends. Cummins assailed what he characterized as the ineffectiveness and exaggerations of the Mexican government.

The British agent was charged with sending discourteous notes to the Mexican government. Ordered deported, he was a prisoner within the legation from June 10 to June 19, when President Obregon withdrew the deportation order and announcement was made in London that arrangements for the withdrawal of Cummins from Mexico had been completed.

By Robert H. Elliott of Westford to John Flynn. The selling price was approximately $12,000.

TRIAL OF FORBES AGAIN POSTPONED

CHICAGO, June 4.—Trial of Charles R. Forbes, formerly head of the veterans' bureau and John W. Thompson, St. Louis and Chicago contractor, was postponed for the third time, yesterday, at the instance of Assistant Attorney General John W. Crim. The case was set for hearing July 14, but it was reported at the Federal building that it would not come to trial until fall. Forbes and Thompson are under indictment charged with bribery and conspiracy to corrupt government officials.

MEETING OF STREET RAILWAY MEN'S UNION

A regular business meeting of local 250, street railway men's union, was held this morning in the union hall in the Grosvenor block with President Thomas J. Powers in the chair. A second meeting, for men unable to attend this morning's session, will be held at 8 o'clock this evening.

The result of the vote taken last week on the new agreement will not be made known until the last of this week, according to President Powers, and until that time the substance of the agreement will not be made public.

SAYS $500,000 SUIT RESULT OF CONSPIRACY

NEW YORK, June 24.—Emanuel Victor Modica, a chauffeur of Newark, N. J., charges that the $500,000 suit filed some time ago by his wife, Mrs. Madeline Helen Modica, against the Countess De Perigny, sister of Harry K. Thaw, for the alleged alienation of his affections, was the result of a conspiracy. The charge is made in a suit for $50,000 brought by him against his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis De Martine, and her brother, Attila Martine, charging alienation of her affections.

Supreme Court Justice Benedict reserved decision on a motion made by the defendants to strike the conspiracy charges from the complaint.

WEALTHY CHICAGO MEN RECEIVE THREATS

CHICAGO, June 24.—Terrorization of the wealthy residents of Chicago's exclusive "gold coast" by writers of letters threatening death, kidnapping and mutilation is under extensive police investigation.

Edward Hines, wealthy lumberman, and Dr. Homer S. Warren, president of the National Pathological Laboratories, are among those who have received threats which police believe are the work of cranks, inspired by the kidnapping and slaying of Robert Franks.

The prisoners escaped by digging a hole in a three foot brick wall, using an iron cot.

41 PRISONERS TUNNEL WAY TO FREEDOM

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 24.—Forty-one prisoners tunneled their way from the Shelby county jail last night. Four were captured during the night and posers are seeking the others today.

The prisoners escaped by digging a hole in a three foot brick wall, using an iron cot.

WIND LEVELS BARN, PINNING TWO IN RUINS

ITHACA, N. Y., June 24.—A whirlwind of unusual proportions late last night, leveled a barn on the farm of Daniel Gaylord, in Groton township, pinning the owner and his wife in the wreckage. Gaylord had four fractured ribs and other injuries, while his wife received severe bruises and shock. Both will recover.

Good Climate

Not everyone can choose the climate in which he is forced to live. And Anytown was no balmy California or Florida town. So the Manias, like most people, had to adapt themselves to the existing climatic conditions. Climate, of itself, has been found to be a lesser consideration. What is important is that a person take advantage of the fresh air to be obtained wherever he or she may live. The main advantage of fresh air may be had wherever you may live. Even in a large city outdoor air is, except in unusual cases, most invigorating. The old cry of "it's too damp" is being downed by hygienic investigation. It is being found that prejudices against common dampness greatly exaggerate the evils. It's healthier to live in damp or foggy air than to remain a shut-in. Those who react to dampness, drafts and all such changes are quite likely to be the people who spend great portions of their time shut up in rooms and offices. So, don't worry about climate. If you can afford to go to one that pleases you more, go right along. If you can't, get acquainted with the air at home.

Wall street rumors that the Canadian Pacific would shortly absorb its lines in this country, among which are the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Seattle Ste Marie, and the Wisconsin Central, are discredited in well-informed rail circles. Such a procedure would place the Canadian Pacific as an organization under the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission, the value of which one banker pointed out, was reflected in the selling of Union Pacific stock around 134 and Canadian Pacific at 146, despite the inequality in dividend payments and larger earnings of the American system.

Phanco delegates to the League of Nations are expected soon to prepare for equalization of the Austrian budget, according to cable advices issued by New York bankers. The recent money prices, it was reported, is being overcome, and the committee on frame positions having been made without any insolvencies.

An issue of $10,000,000 Virginian Railway Co. first mortgage 50 year 5 per cent gold bonds, series A, due 1962, priced at 98 and interest to yield about 5 1/2 per cent, tends the list of new offerings today. Others included $4,000,000 Appalachian Power Co. 6 per cent gold debentures, series A, at 97 to yield 6.55 per cent.

To permit trading on the New York cotton exchange immediately following publication of the government crop report, members are considering a new rule to extend closing hours on any Saturday into the afternoon. The change is proposed mainly to take advantage of the report to be issued at noon on Saturday, Aug. 2. All other crop predictions and estimates will be issued before the close of the market.

NOMINATION PAPERS FILED
Nomination papers were filed this morning in the office of the board of election commissioners at city hall by Jay R. Benton, seeking a second term as state attorney general, and Horace A. Keith of Brookline, republican, for state treasurer and receiver general.

LOWELL MEN NAMED HERTZOG NEW PREMIER OF SOUTH AFRICA

Pres. Fred Spauld President Over New England Typos' Convention at Concord

PRETORIA, Union of South Africa, June 24.—(By the Associated Press)—Gen. James Barry Hertzog, leader of the victorious parties in the recent elections, today accepted the premiership of South Africa, succeeding Gen. Jan Christian Smuts. Gen. Hertzog has begun the formation of a cabinet.

DR. DAVID JOSLIN'S CELEBRATED OINTMENT

Every human death may be attributed to interference with respiration with the action of the heart or with the nervous system.

"Baking always takes so much of my Time" said a real house-wife, a few days ago. She is the kind of house-wife whose table is always well served with good food. "I am never sure of my own cake being just right, so I have learned the habit of buying a package of Drake's Cake every day—or a pound of it when we need more. Then I haven't anything to excuse about the cake on the table. When Drake's trade mark is on it, I am always sure of the quality"

NEW YORK 1866-1924

Until this year, the city of New York has not been a popular selective rallying place for democratic party breathing seeking locations for national conventions in presidential election years. The last democratic convention of the presidential brand in New York city was held far back in the year 1868. And the community citizenship of New York that greeted the delegates in that period just after the Civil war, was in population numbers scarcely more than 160,000. New York was young, fifty-six years ago.

Transportation in New York thoroughfares consisted in the main of horse cars, stage coaches and automobile hacks, and a great many of them. Many of today's great traffic highways throughout the length and breadth of Manhattan Island, were, in 1868, scarcely populated or used in outlying sections. Busses carried passengers at 10 cents per passenger, and along about midnight the 330 conveyances were sent to the stables, for New Yorkers were usually in bed and asleep at that hour of the night half a century ago.

Fifth avenue and the Fifth Avenue hotel—rendezvous in former years for noted political captains of both major parties in state and national campaigns as well as New York municipal wars of the turgid Tammany brand—these will be remembered today by some of the older gentlemen who went to New York as delegates to the 1924 national democratic convention. If memories are good, there will be pictures of the old Fifth Avenue hotel and environs, with the "Amen Corner" and its habitude of familiar association in the days of old time New York.

OUR SUMMER SCHOOL

A summer school instruction session of six weeks will be opened at Lowell high school on Monday, July 7, at 8.30 a. m., for the purpose of providing an opportunity for first and second year pupils, who have unsatisfactory standing in any subject, to improve their records.

This announcement, coming from solicited school authorities, invariably endeavoring to assist backward children in their studies, is a matter that should be brought to the attention of the public at large, for not all citizens of Lowell are familiar with the "summer review" school and its possibilities.

The study calendar this season will cover such subjects as beginners' algebra, algebra 1A, algebra 1B; also geometry, stenography and typewriting, together with course in English, French and Latin. All applicants for the summer review school session must have the approval of Headmaster H. H. Harris, and those from the Junior high schools must receive the recommendations of their principals.

A particularly pleasing feature of the program to start on July 7 next, is the promise that comes from the supporters of the summer school that the spirit actuating the willing instructors will be that of helpfulness. When the list of Lowell's school instructors of both sexes is scanned, it is evident that promises of cheerful, sympathetic instruction service will be eminently fulfilled.

The school sessions will be from 8.30 to 11.30, five days in the week, and will be divided into three periods of one hour each. All of the work program will be intensive from the outset. It will be mapped out so as to give each pupil what he most needs to enable him to pass a "make-up" examination given by regular day school teachers at the close of the session, or during the first week of the fall term.

It is of interest, of course, to learn that the subjects in the summer review session will be taught by regular high school teachers, with helpfulness the motto on the banners of instruction. The teaching, as we understand it, will be more individual and tutorial in character than obtains in the regular high school, and will also aim to teach the pupil how to study and work independently.

Putting it briefly, Lowell high school first and second year pupils, who are ambitious to make up defective records; who failed because of sickness or absence, or because of inattention, and are now anxious to work, are the ones whom the summer review school session is designed to serve.

CHILD LABOR STUDY

Lowell, as usual, is marching with the leaders of the cause of righteously against the use of child labor. The study of the conditions of child labor in the city is being conducted by the Massachusetts School Superintendents' association, which is holding a series of sessions of the United States today. The labor union members through their elected executives, have formally offered their active assistance to the Massachusetts School Superintendents' association special committee, delegated to study the problem of children in industry and the advisability of extending the compulsory school age.

This offer was made at a meeting conducted at the state house, Boston, with sympathetic school superintendents from many sections of the commonwealth on hand to file in person their approval of the pretensions of the employed youth in the fields of education. The program calls upon leading educators to organize an improved plan widely endorsed in a general scheme of relieving the long-irritating problem—children in industry, destined to grow up without elementary knowledge needed to protect and aid them in their toilsome march along the road to maturity.

The advisability of extending the compulsory school age of children has been considered for many months past by men and women deeply interested in children's welfare. Among the most active workers in the cause of protecting children who toil, also supporting legislative measures intended to remove many menacing employment evils, is Esther M. Downing of this city, director of the home-making department of girls of Lowell Vocational school. All eager Lowell supporters of the movement to further study and solve the main problem of child labor by extending the compulsory school age, will be glad to know that the school director above-named has performed in the past, and is still carrying cheerfully on very highly commendatory work in the cause of the campaign.

THE WHEAT CROP

The mid-June forecast of the winter wheat crop by the department of agriculture, is not too encouraging. As compared with a year ago, the reduction in the acreage sown is nearly 13 per cent, while the indicated production is less by 3.5 per cent.

We are told that the largest estimated increase in production as compared with last year, is in Kansas—Kansas true to form, of course—where a total yield of 134,000,000 bushels is forecast, as against 84,000,000 in 1923. The largest decreases are found in Illinois, Missouri and California.

The figures indicate the smallest winter wheat crop since 1917, together with a materially increased acre yield, which means lower costs of production. The wheat farmers' prospects are not so bad off after all, we believe, if these reports can be relied upon, as they have been in the past few years. The decrease in production is planned to bring up the price and prevent a surplus supply from becoming salable unless at a price less than the cost of production.

MAH JONGG

This game, mah jongg, according to Chinese scholars, was invented by a Chin fisherman named Sze to entertain the crews of his fishing fleet when their ships were tossed about by the four winds. That was 20 centuries ago.

The Chinese also invented chess, dominoes and playing cards. When chess becomes the national rage, thinking will have become less painful. There seems to be no agony more generally dreaded than intense, continuous thought.

ALASKAN WEALTH

Alaska still pours a lot of gold and silver into the laps of prospectors. But she is giving nearly five times as much wealth to the salmon canning industry. It is not true that the rules of romance adventure, but there is more in a tin can than in a gold mine.

The great rewards of life come from concentration on production or distribution of the simple necessities, not precious stones or gold nuggets. Select something that people virtually have to have, distribute it to the people and your success is assured.

LLOYD'S WITH WETS

Some prohibition leaders have been confidently telling the world that Great Britain is scheduled to be next on the water wagon. Lloyd's, the big London insurance agency, thinks otherwise. It is insuring British distillers against loss of their income by prohibition. And Lloyd's is betting 500 to 1 that Britain will continue wet. Britain wants peace and does not care for civil strife between the wets and the dries.

VANITY

Copper ornaments that were made between 6500 and 9000 years ago are dug up near Ur, city of ancient Babylon. Made thousands of years before King Tut was born, these copper ornaments are among the earliest works of art. They express the infancy of the creative spirit that exists in every man, from the time he plays with blocks as a boy until he finishes his life's work.

The Babylonian copper objects represent men and oxen. In addition to being art, they were intended as a history of accomplishment—main motive of which is vanity.

RELIEF WORK

Fall River aldermen voted in favor of a $200,000 loan to be used in the construction of streets and sewers as a means of offering employment to some of those left in idleness by the curtailment in the factories. This is the time to start such relief work where the necessary funds are available. In this city there is considerable street and sewer work in progress, but the employment is under civil service control.

INDIANS BECOME CITIZENS

If length of residence in this country counts for anything, then the 127,000 American Indians declared to be citizens and not wards of the nation in a proclamation by President Coolidge, are given only the status that belongs to them. The Indians have too long been regarded as unfit for civilization, whereas if offered the proper opportunities of advancement, they would probably have shown natural talents equal to those of many other races.

HISTORIC FLE GOES

Madison Square Garden is doomed to destruction once more. The owners have been proposing to tear the historic pile down for several years past, but national conventions, exhibitions, circuses, etc., were coming too fast and rental receipt funds piling up too satisfactorily to allow the work of demolition to start before this year. The owners now declare emphatically and unequivocally, that the famous old structure with its landmark lineaments and history, both tragic and glorious, must be torn down faithfully. The work is to start immediately after the wind-up of the democratic presidential nomination convention.

Perhaps time really is money. Anyway, time is all some friends spend.

Even if women do have more sense than men, you never see a man with about a million buttons on his shirt.

A Thought

And plenty makes us poor.—Dryden.

Was Indignant

The story is told of a Virginian who stayed out until the morning. His wife objected. He said he wasn't out as late as she thought he was. She declared she had heard the clock strike "One," said the Virginian. "What," she said, "did you take the word of a Yankee clock before mine?"

Byed Him Baitfully

"Hoffy says Bluebelle was pretty mad. He took her out in an old hat, it sprung a leak, and while he rowed deperately, she had to go to bathing. This rain hat she had on blistered her hands, but it had to be done. 'She bailed and bailed and bailed,' 'What did she say to Hoffy?' 'Nothing,' but he says she eyed him baitfully."

Proper Sequence

"But can you cook?" said the young man after proposing. "Let us take these questions in their proper order," replied the modern girl. "The matter of cooking is not the first thing to be considered. Then what is the first?" "The proper young man," "Can you provide the things to be cooked?"

Cured the Idea

"I owe a great deal to that man," declared Mr. Beattie, pointing out a scholarly looking individual who was ambling along. "Who is he?" "The editor of the Slosh Magazine," said the speaker. "He cured me of my 'Never a line.' Then why do you owe him so much?" "He cured me of the idea that 'was a poet.'"

Very Reluctant

The evening party was over and the hostess said to the young man as he was leaving, "I'm afraid you're not a very good conversationalist." "I'm not," replied the young man. "I'm not a very good conversationalist," he said. "The only thing she could say to me was, 'No, and I had to propose to get even that out of her!'"

Sabbath "Clothes"

After the usual Saturday romp a group of children gathered in the drawing room for some music. As bedtime drew near, the mother said: "Now, children, choose a hymn to sing. I will give you a prize for the best." "Let's have 'Bre Again Our Sabbath Close,'" said a little girl of 7. "Well, I think that would be more suitable for tomorrow evening," replied the mother. "O, but you always air our Sabbath clothes on Saturday," said the child.

For Lack of Gold

For lack of gold she's left me, O. And of all that's dear to me, I've lost. She has forsaken for Albee's duker. And to endless woe she's left me, O.

A star and a quarter have more art. The youth, a true young man, is art. For empty titles we must part. And for glittering gold she's left me, O.

No cruel fair shall ever more. My injured heart again to love. Through distant climates I must rove. Since Jennie she left me, O.

Give powers above, I to your care. Give up my faithless, fickle fair. You've colored blindness in her share. Though she's forever left me, O.

ADAM AUSTIN.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

The national conventions, up to this year, were things conducted in a manner unknown to the general public. This year, however, the entire conduct of the conventions of both major parties is an open book to anyone who desires to hear the proceedings for the reason that the meetings are broadcast throughout the country by powerful radio stations situated at central points. To many it is only the broadcast of an important event, such as the national conventions that awaken in them a friendly spirit toward the radio.

Local Elks are enthused over plans for the annual convention of Elksdom in Boston the week of July 7. Lowell lodge plans to have 1000 members in line in the big parade which opens the exercises and already over 500 local Elks has purchased Palm Beach suits and canes for this event. Chairman Michael Markham is working hard to make the Lowell delegation one of the highest in line and as a special feature, Dr. William H. Davis will participate. Dr. Davis is the oldest past exalted ruler in New-England and his presence in the Lowell section will greatly enhance the Spindle City's showing.

The Eastern Elk has the following to say about the convention:

Charles H. Grakelow, grand exalted ruler, the following circular: Be it Shipped Abroad or "All Abroad," the destination must be Boston, for you cannot afford to miss what promises to be a most wonderful grand lodge reunion.

The report of the Boston committee and the many inquiries from lodges all over the country bespeak the keenest interest.

This American Gentlemen's Order could not have a more auspicious setting than in the old, historical city of Boston with its wonderful environment and its numerous summer resorts nearby. Added to this entire combination is a most splendid and efficient committee backed up by an enthusiastic citizenship, all desirous of putting across this session in a 100 per cent manner.

The route of the parade is quite short and over well-paved, shaded avenues. "A Week in New England" is the slogan and plans, rapidly shaping up, promise a week never to be forgotten.

The new park board regulations governing the use of city tennis courts whereby playing permits must be obtained in advance, were badly needed. Tennis is a game that has taken the popular fancy in Lowell during the past two or three years to such an extent that the park commissions have no more special appropriations for new courts and this year have put into use five new ones on the Highlands playground at the junction of B and Stevens streets. The moment these were ready for use the demand was far in excess of the accommodations and the need of regulations at once became apparent. Crowds of boys and girls were waiting in line to play and first comers did not always reap the rewards of priority. Now, under the new rules, play will be in proper rotation and much of the congestion should be eliminated. More courts are needed in all sections, however, particularly in Centralville and Pawtucketville.

The hot weather, which was played for in May and for this month is

OLD RAGS

Let's look within the closet of most any home at all. Let's ponder o'er the things that fill up space. You'll find a line of hangers, in the summer, spring or fall, that have hung there in the well-secluded place.

An ancient dress of mother's that she wore in ninety-two is an echo of the days of long ago. A ragged suit of brother's that's a long-since faded blue; they're hanging on the closet rack, just so.

You'd laugh to see the trousers that poor father used to wear. A freak of clothing make-up, if you please. Even so, for no good reason, you will find them hanging there. They're faded out and baggy at the knees.

A dress for graduation, worn by sister, so they say, is made of fancy frills and classy lace. She'd never have the nerve to wear this ancient gown today and so they leave it hanging in its place.

Old rags! That's what we'll call them for that's what they really seem. Like ancient treasures laid upon a shelf. In truth they're just incentives for a kind of mem'ry dream. I know! I've got a lot of them myself.

World War Veteran is Undergoing Treatment at Local Hospital

Omer Lafraniere, 26 years, and a veteran of the World war, has been confined at St. John's hospital since the 16th of the month with a pronounced case of sleeping sickness. He has been under the care of a physician for nearly a month, but it was only a week ago that his condition became serious enough to warrant his removal to the hospital. His condition now shows signs of improvement.

Lafraniere sleeps nearly 24 hours a day, waking only long enough to eat one meal, and then lapsing back into a dormant state almost immediately. His only daily meal is a hearty one and for this reason it is believed his recovery is but a question of time.

MT. TOM ONE OF NEW ENGLAND'S SHOW SPOTS

Mt. Tom, near Holyoke, Mass., is one of the show spots in New England and is reached from Mountaln park, powerful electric cable cars bearing the visitor to the Summit house, a distance of about a mile in less than 10 minutes. From the summit, enchanting views of mountains and valleys, river and lakes, villages and farms are to be had on every hand. Mt. Tom rears itself 1000 feet abruptly from the levels of the territory round about and located in a most picturesque section of the Connecticut river valley, furnishes a scenic panorama not to be excelled in all New England.

Cars run half-hourly from 10.22 a. m. There is an excellent restaurant at the Summit house and there are also pavilions indoors and outdoors for those who bring their own lunch. Automobiles may be parked at Mountaln park, a few steps from the cable electric railway. There are many large telescopes, maps, comfortable verandas, all free to visitors. The round trip fare is only 50 cents from Mountaln park.

TEN INDICTMENTS

BOSTON, June 23.—Charles Ponzi, whose five-year term of imprisonment in the Plymouth jail on federal charges connected with his scheme of high finance expires on Aug. 5, was arraigned in the superior court here today on ten indictments for larceny. Bail was fixed at $14,000, and Judge Bishop named Oct. 5 as the date for trial.

Twenty-two indictments were returned against Ponzi by the Suffolk county grand jury. His trial several months ago on 12 of these indictments resulted in acquittal. When he is released from Plymouth, he will be brought to the Charles Street jail in this city, where he will remain until he is able to furnish bail.

Ponzi, asking the court to release him on his own recognizance, said that he was penniless.

GOVERNMENT RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Government receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30 will exceed expenditures by more than $500,000,000, Secretary Mellon announces. The tax reduction program submitted by Mr. Mellon was based on an estimated surplus of $223,000,000.

Discussing the excess over first estimates, the secretary said none of it could have been counted on when figures for the year were prepared. Some $60,000,000 of it he explained came from a cash payment by the British government, which heretofore has been using American government bonds to make its payments on the war debt while another $55,000,000 came from the sale of railroad securities, held from war settlement days by the railroad administration. March tax payments also exceeded expectations as did the payments June 16, when incomplete figures show about $345,000,000 was paid in.

A proposal has been made to use the first three floors of the Bidel Tower as a restaurant, a dance hall and a tea room.

Baby's Own Tablets Are Effective and Easy to Give

You do not have to coax and threaten to get the little ones to take Baby's Own Tablets. The ease with which they are given, as compared with liquid medicines, will appeal to every mother. None is spilled or wasted; you know just how big a dose has reached the little stomach. As a remedy for the ills of childhood arising from derangements of the stomach and bowels, they are most satisfactory.

Mrs. Rose Voyer, of No. 27 Arnold's Lane, Williamstown, Conn., says: "I used Baby's Own Tablets in the Canadian northwest and found them a wonderful medicine for children's troubles, especially indigestion and constipation. I have also given them to my children for fever and the restlessness accompanying teething and they always gave relief. I can recommend Baby's Own Tablets to all mothers."

Baby's Own Tablets are guaranteed to contain no opiates and to be perfectly safe for the youngest child. They are sold by all druggists or will be mailed, postpaid, on receipt of price, twenty-five cents per box, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.—Adv.

UNITED STATES TIRES ARE GOOD TIRES

There are Balloon Tires—and Balloon Tires

BY this time the facts about the advantages of Balloon Tires are pretty well known and accepted.

Briefly—almost perfect shock absorption, easier riding, higher speed over rough roads, less wear and tear on the car, increased braking effect, decreased tendency toward skidding.

The question of balloon tires comes down to this:

- (1) Do they give service?
- (2) Should I get them?

In so far as U.S. Royal Cord Balloon Tires are concerned, the answer to the first question is emphatically "Yes".

They are made by the largest rubber organization in the world and one of the largest producers of low air pressure tires.

They are built of Latex-treated cords—by the method developed, patented and owned by the makers of U.S. Tires. They have the combination of flexibility and strength which is the first and foremost requisite. They are accurately balanced—safe and easy to steer at all speeds.

Now for the second question:

Argentine Heavyweight Accepts Final Terms of Tex
Rickard

Mayor Edward W. Quinn of Cambridge, chairman of the Massachusetts delegation to the Democratic National Convention, writes that New York is doing everything possible to make the visit of the delegates an enjoyable one. "They have shown great thoughtfulness in making us comfortable," he writes. "Among other things we were delighted to find Elcho Cigars, our favorite smoke, provided for us. Incidentally the Elcho makes quite a hit with our friends from other parts of the country."—Adv.

Time and Place of Match to Be Announced After Democratic Convention

NEW YORK, June 24.—Louis Angelino, Argentine heavyweight, has accepted the final terms of Tex Rickard, promoter of a 15-round bout between Firpo and Harry Wills, 220-pound negro, thus concluding negociations which have been pending for two months. "Although it was at first agreed that the match should take place in the latter part of August, Firpo was notified of Rickard's announcement, cabled from Buenos Aires that he would not fight until the first week in September at the earliest.

Rickard said he would announce the exact time and place after the democratic convention. It is probable that the match will be staged in Rickard's arena on Boyle's Thirty Acres in New Jersey.

Firpo acceded to Rickard's final terms after the promoter had agreed to a few minor changes in the contract. Rickard cabled the Argentine yesterday asking when he would leave
Buenos Aires for New York.

Rickard also announced that nothing definite would be done about the

Detroit Goes Into First Place—Yanks Drop Double Header to Senators—Red Sox Lose Twin Bill and Fall to Fourth—Indians Take Two From White Sox

NEW YORK, June 24.—The American League race is fast developing into a tight ball, leading act, Connie Mack's Athletics are the only team capable of maintaining a stable equilibrium from day to day. While Philadelphia keeps a death grip on first place by the comfortable margin of six games, the other seven clubs shift positions with bewildering frequency. Every outfit in the circuit except the White Elephants today, played a different story on their Johnson's staircase from that which it succeeded the former Brooklyn schemer in the second game. Hoyt's reliefed in favor of a pinch hitter, Connie Mack's charges with nothing at stake, derived the satisfaction pushing the Red Sox down the totem pole with 2-0 and 6-3 victories. Terry and George Murray engaged in a pitcher's duel in the first encounter, in which the latter was slightly out-generated. proposed match between the winner of this bout and Jack Dempsey, until after the Firpo-Wills battle. The statement is interpreted as an indication that Rickard has abandoned his plans to use Dempsey in a title match during the present outdoor season.

The Giants still hold the Indian sash over Brooklyn. By the decision of 12 to 3, they retained the winning advantage and took the win out of 12 starts against the Red Sox this season. "Dutch" Ruether was knocked out in the first inning. Brooklyn's only redeeming feature was a hitting effort of Wheat, who made 4 hits.

Wilbur Cooper, the Pirates' star, outpitched Adolfo Luque, the Red Star, and Pittsburgh's first baseman, Fred Clarke. Caldwell, the most prominent player in his team's triumph.

LATHAM ELECTED TRACK TEAM CAPTAIN

David Latham, one of the illustrious twins, who figured so prominently in track athletics at the high school this past spring and winter, today was elected captain of the team for next year. He will be a year-round captain, leading both the indoor and outdoor squads and is the first boy to be so honored. James Daley was captain of the 1924 indoor team and Whitman Pearson led the outdoor squad. David Latham, as well as his brother, Ernest, were members of the Lowell high two-mile relay team at the Pennsylvania carnival and during the indoor season was a consistent point winner in the middle distance runs. He is just completing his junior year and should develop into a star of the first magnitude in 1925.

The track squad loses by graduation tomorrow night four of the best men ever to represent the school—Pearson, Daley, Slavin and Bob Burke. That is a quartet to gladden the heart of any coach. Pearson is slated for Andover. Daley probably will matriculate at Boston college and Slavin and Burke are undecided as to their future.

FELIX KING TO MEET NELSON AT NASHUA

NASHUA, June 24.—The Nashua Driving club, which recently staged a most successful open air show on the theatre grounds, has another high class card arranged for tomorrow night. It will be put on out of doors in the event of rain, however, it will be presented in the theatre. Felix King will face "Wild Cat" Nelson of Brooklyn in the main event. This is expected to develop into a terrific slugging match. In the semi-final Bernie Cowette, sensational Manchester lightweight, will meet Wally Theroux of Nashua in a bout to settle the state lightweight championship, with the winner promised a bout with Billy Murphy of Lowell. In the preliminaries Paul Ouellette of Nashua will meet the Fighting Devil of Haverhill and Young Morin of Nashua will tackle K.O. White of Milford. The first bout will go on at 8.15, daylight saving time.

SUZANNE LENGLEN AND MISS WILLS ON BILL

WIMBLEDON, England, June 24.—(By the Associated Press) Much of the interest of the galleries in the Wimbledon tennis championships shifted today from the center court to No. 1, where the first matches were scheduled in the women's singles. Suzanne Lenglen, world champion, and Helen Wills American titleholder, were both on the bill, and everybody was eager to see whether the former had lost anything of her past prowess and whether the latter could retrieve the misfortunes of her early play here.

It was the general expectation beforehand that the Californian would prove to have overcome the handicap of climate, unaccustomed courts and heavy balls to which her recent defeat by Mrs. Covel was largely attributed. Her opponent today was Miss Lillian Scherman.

BLACK GOLD LAST IN LATONIA PRELIMINARY

LATONIA, Ky., June 24.—Western candidates for the Latonia Derby to be run next Saturday, were given their preliminary at Latonia, yesterday, and Black Gold, the most highly regarded of all, was the one found wanting. The horse that won three Derbies this year for Mrs. R. M. Hoots of Oklahoma, showed a dull performance and finished last in a field of seven starters in a mile and an eighth dash.

Chilhowee, the winner, ran the distance in 1:50 4-5, and was pushed throughout by Cibola and Lord Morin. King Gorin H. Allawood and Bourbon Ray finished in the order named ahead of Black Gold.

Horsemen generally were of the opinion the triple Derby winner had not done enough work since his victory at Maple Heights and thought yesterday's race should put him on edge for the mile and a half journey on Saturday.

Mad Play, Mr. Mutt, Klondyke, Braddock and other western candidates for the Latonia Derby are expected to leave New York for Latonia today or tomorrow.

Billy Evans SAYS

A belated slide has, for the time being, robbed the New York Americans of the services of one of the greatest young players to break into the majors in years.

I have reference to Outfielder Earl Combs, for whom the Yankees paid something like $50,000 last winter to the Louisville club of the American association.

Recently in a game at Cleveland he started a late slide into the plate, his spikes caught, and his leg was so badly injured that it was necessary to carry him off the field.

The foot-first slide is a dangerous play unless perfectly executed. Done improperly, it invariably results in injury.

A majority of players find it necessary to slow up a bit prior to the slide, so they may properly position themselves before hitting the dirt.

Of all the great base runners I have ever seen in action, Cobb, I believe, is the only one to start his slide at full speed.

Most necessary of all, in order to get the full advantage of the slide, is to properly gauge the distance. It is imperative that the runner go into the bag at full speed, and yet be able to stop hook into the base that he will not overslide.

The late slide is the bugbear of baseball. It means that the player must hit the dirt without giving thought to distance and position. Usually the spikes catch in the turf and the player suffers a leg injury.

Combs could have scored standing up. In running to the plate he so judged the play that he did not believe it necessary to slide. One of his teammates, thinking Combs was to be thrown out, yelled slide as he was almost on the plate.

Seeking to obey orders, he slid into the plate late, didn't have time to rate his speed of distance and, as a result, will probably be out the rest of the season.

His loss, coming at a time when his services are badly needed, will be sorely felt by the New York club. A fine fielder, very fast, and a great hitter, Combs would have been a regular from the start on any club other than the Yankees.

Joining a club that had won a pennant and a world series, it was only natural that he didn't have much of a chance to break into the lineup, despite his admitted ability.

Baseball managers are superstitious. They follow precedent closely. Seldom will they tempt fate.

Working along these lines, Miller Huggins started the season with the lineup that had won for him a world's championship. That's merely common sense.

The suspension of Bob Meusel gave

ATTACKS TREATMENT OF "NICKY" ARNSTEIN AND "BIG NICK" COHN IN N. Y.

CLEVELAND, June 24.—Declaring that the more serious the fracture of the skull, the less serious the brain injury is likely to be, Dr. C. A. Ley of Pittsburgh, addressing the convention of the American Institute of Homeopathy today, attacked the "attitude of comparative hopelessness in the treatment of brain injuries that has allowed these patients to be almost neglected in the general hospitals."

Dr. Ley described the mortality rate from skull fractures as appalling. "If the patient recovers, remarkable—he had a fracture of the skull; if he dies, well, he had a fracture of the skull," is the attitude taken by many doctors, he said.

FLAG FOR DOVER STREET SCHOOL

Monday afternoon a beautiful silk flag was presented to the lower grades of the Dover street school by the Benjamin F. Butler Women's Relief Corps, Post 75. Mrs. Charles S. The student body sang patriotic anthems and there were recitations by Vera Myron, Harold Sanford, Nancy Rosmer, Arker Brownell and Ruth Feely. Nancy Rosmer sang "The Flag for You and the Flag for Me." The exercises closed with "The Battle Hymn of the Republic and America."

NATIONAL PUBLIC LINKS TOURNAMENT

DATON, Ohio, June 24.—Play in the qualifying round and the Harding cup match of the national public links tournament got under way today.

Eighty-four men will battle for the Harding cup, given each year to the city which has the low gross score for the four men. Chicago, last year's winner, is again entered, along with New York, Boston, Worcester, Mass., Springfield, Mass., and other cities.

The first 18 hole score of the qualifying round will count toward the Harding cup.

Earl Combs has big chance. Had he not been injured he would have been rated a star by the close of the season.

Perhaps, some time, someone will invent a substitute for the spike, which although necessary to the game is the cause of many serious injuries.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Julius W. (Nickel) Arnstein, prominent in Wall street bond thefts and his companion, "Big Nick" Cohn, who were convicted of taking stolen securities from New York to Washington, D. C., are in New York again. It became known today that both were brought secretly to the Tombs from the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas.

They were taken from the federal prison, where both are serving two year terms, upon an order issued by a federal judge for their examination in bankruptcy proceedings brought against Arnstein four years ago.

YOU radio fans probably will smile a bit at my WTW, and wonder just what I am going to say on what you know my favorite topic to be: proper motor lubrication. After all, as the Veteran Motorist, I am privileged to discuss WTW, or What is What in motor lubrication.

I have been driving a car for over 20 years and have gone through the experiences which befall most of us. I have made my mistakes, too. But since Socony Motor Oil came on the market, I have stopped worrying about lubrication. Furthermore, I have stopped paying excessive repair bills. I used to be one of those chaps who thought it economical to save 10c on the gallon, and then perhaps pay $140.00 three months later "for repairs and overhauling." I do not do it any more. Since then I've filled up on Socony Motor Oil and forgotten my worries and saved money. That's why I insist upon broadcasting a good thing. That's why I am never weary of proclaiming that Socony is WIW in motor oils.

FUNERALS

LETENDRE—The funeral of Mrs. Laura M. (Pomerleau) Letendre, wife of Louis Letendre, took place yesterday at 8 o'clock from the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Pomerleau, 3 Westford street, and was largely attended. At 9 o'clock at Notre Dame de Lourdes church, a solemn high funeral mass was celebrated by Rev. Charles Paquette, O.M.I., assisted by Rev. Joseph Denis, O.M.I., as sub-deacon and by Rev. Lucien Brassard, O.M.I., as sub-deacon. The choir, under the direction of Severin Belanger, rendered the Gregorian chant, the salms being sustained by Louis Masson, Wilfrid Jacques, Louis Renaud, Edward Gregoire, Joseph Larochelle, Mrs. W. Lambert and Mrs. C. Cote. At the offertory, Mrs. H. Archambault sang Lesbach's "Pie Jesu" and at the elevation Edward Gregoire sang Rosewig's "O Meritum Passionis." At the end of the mass the choir rendered the "De Profundis" and as the body was being borne from the church Miss H. Archambault sang Schubert's "Farewell." Miss Bella Lavigne was at the organ. The bearers were Joseph and John Pomerleau, Louis and Arthur Drouin, Donat Letendre and Louis Beaudet. There were many flowers. Burial was in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery, where the communal prayers were read by Rev. Joseph Denis, O.M.I. The funeral arrangements were under the direction of Undertakers Amedee Archambault and Sons.

FIRST WOMAN GRADUATE
BURLINGTON, Vt., June 23.—For the first time in the history of the University of Vermont, a woman was graduated from the college of medicine today. This distinction goes to Miss Dorothy Lang of Cambridge, Vt., who won second honors among the 33 members of the senior class in medicine. The entire graduating class in the institution numbered 182, the largest in history.

TO PROTECT AMERICANS
TOKIO, June 23. (By the Associated Press)—Yokohama police authorities, owing to the growing anti-American feeling whose progress is accelerated by the recent California incidents involving Japanese, have ordered a more strict control over agitation against Americans and more adequate protection for United States nationals resident there.

CASES DISPOSED OF IN MISS LENGLEN WINS THE DISTRICT COURT

William Auger and Georgianna Arthur both pleaded guilty to illegally keeping liquor, and were fined $100 each in district court this morning. Sarah Chodes was continued for two months.

James S. Rogerson, drunkenness, was found guilty and given a suspended sentence of six months in the house of correction.

John H. Dawson, charged with the larceny of $75 worth of cigars in 1918, was continued one month.

Clifford Paine, assault on an officer, was continued until tomorrow.

Michael Burke, drunkenness, was given a direct sentence of three months in the house of correction.

Thomas O'Connor, drunkenness, was sentenced to one month in the house of correction, and the sentence was suspended for six months.

Michael Tenous, operating an automobile in a manner to endanger the lives of the public, and operating without a license or registration, was continued to July 7.

Louis Romero, non-support, was found guilty and ordered to pay $3 a week for six months.

Perceles Bellas, violation of a city ordinance, was fined $5.

HARVARD CLUBS' BOOK PRIZE AWARDED

The Lowell Harvard club, in conjunction with the New England Federation of Harvard Clubs, today presented its annual book prize to Arlenus J. Stewart of the senior class of the high school.

The award was made at an assembly of the senior class at the Memorial Auditorium this forenoon, by Richard Brabrook Walsh, president of the Lowell club. With him as club representatives were James F. Conway and Allan M. Donahue.

The book given this year is a beautifully bound copy of Lord Charnwood's "Life of Roosevelt" and the inscription upon it, "For Marked Excellence in Character and Scholarship," fully explains the reason of the award.

JUDGE PICKMAN HOLDS INQUEST HEARINGS

Judge John J. Pickman presided at two inquests in the court of second sessions this morning. One concerned the death of Stanley Klopacz, who was killed by a freight train in Wigglesville on June 3, and the other the death of Fred White, who died as the result of being struck by an automobile in Andover street driven by David Billson. The fatality occurred on June 14.

AMENDMENT TO DOWN TOWN TRAFFIC RULES

An amendment to the downtown traffic regulations will go into effect next Saturday when vehicles will be forbidden making a left turn from Central street into Market. Superintendent Atkinson announced this morning.

The new rule, to be effective during the rush hours, between 5 and 8.30 p. m., suggests itself, says the chief, because frequent tie-ups have been noted in this area, the entire Central street system being disturbed by automobiles bound for Market street. Beginning Saturday, therefore, no machines coming down Central street in the direction of Merrimack, will be allowed to turn into Market street.

THEATRE ADMISSION PRICES REDUCED

On July 3, in connection with the announcement of the federal government that luxury taxes on amusements on tickets up to and including fifty cents will be abrogated, three of the largest local theatres, B. F. Keith's, the Merrimack Square and the Rialto, will scale down their admission prices for the public's benefit. The Royal and Crown theatres will make similar reductions.

The managers of these three playhouses, Mr. Pickett of Keith's, Mr. Peterson of Merrimack square and Mr. Melnicoff of the Rialto, today announced the ticket cut reductions, to become operative at midnight on July 2. Of course, the reduced prices at Keith's, as pointed out by Mr. Pickett, actually will not be felt by theatre-goers until his house reopens about the middle of August, but then will be in effect.

The discontinuance of the tax means much to the general public and is as interesting a bit of news as has been made public locally for some time, because of its widespread effect.

The discontinuance of the tax at the B. F. Keith theatre means that five admission prices will be reduced and one remain as at present. The ticket which will not change is the 75 cent admission plus an 8-cent tax, making a total of 83 cents. The reductions will be as follows: From 55 cents to 40 cents, from 33 cents to 20, from 35 to 25, from 25 to 15 and from 17 to 15.

At Keith's the tax has been added on to the established price, while at the Merrimack Square the tax has been included in the established price so that reductions there will be as follows: From 35 to 31 cents, from 20 to 18 cents and from 15 to 12 cents. The Merrimack Square does not have any 50 cent admissions and therefore all its prices are to be cut down.

At the Rialto theatre the established price of 15 cents will remain the same, but the evening admission, which has been somewhat of a division of opinion as to the proper step to take. Some chains are going to give the public the benefit of the tax, as will be the case in Lowell, while others will absorb the tax, claiming that an increase in prices is necessary to meet running costs. The plan whereby the public will benefit easily will enjoy the most popularity.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

THE EVIDENCE LOOKS CONVINCING

Plum seekers were rewarded yesterday at city hall. While this is rather an off season for plums at the municipal palace, there was an abundance of them yesterday. There is no kidding about this—the tale is as straight and true as a plum line.

The plums referred to were Nature's own, and not, as one might at first suppose, of the political variety. One of the hard-working scribes at the hall 'bought a bag of plums yesterday and left same in the so-called "press desk" in the council committee room.

Plum-seekers raided the desk and the scribes, the self-same fellows who last week stuck their elbows in the newly-varnished and unlabeled window sills at the hall, had another score to settle with the administration. The boys sure have their troubles, if anybody cares to know.

Rainbows may mean the approach of either good or bad weather.

after today's session and look for the real fighting on the convention floor to start Thursday or Friday, when the balloting on candidates begins.

McAdoo and Smith Lead

Indications today are that the votes will be distributed on the initial ballots among at least 20 candidates; with William C. McAdoo having at the start about 450, Gov. Alfred E. Smith, approximately 250, and Senators Underwood and Hylan, John W. Davis and James M. Cox, about 50 each.

Others who will be in at the beginning, at least—and some of them have "first-last-and-all-the-time" support—include Gov. Silas of New Jersey, Senator Ferris of Michigan, Senator Gihss of Virginia, Gov. Jonathan Davis of Kansas, Senator Harrison of Mississippi, Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Gov. Brown of New Hampshire, Gov. Bryan of Nebraska, Gov. Sweet of Colorado, former Senator Sanbury of Delaware, and Senator Kendrick of Wyoming.

Monster Demonstrations

Monster demonstrations are being planned by the big caucuses when their candidates are placed in nomination, and much time was devoted, by the members today to working up the sentiment of their supporters to the highest possible degree.

Under the somewhat tentative program devised by the convention managers tomorrow to give the resolutions committee time to build a platform out of the mass of material prepared largely in advance for its consideration.

High Notes of Today's Session

The high notes of today's formal prelude to the impending spectacle in Madison Square Garden were the keynote address of Senator Harrison of Mississippi, as temporary chairman, appointment of the resolutions, rules, credentials and other committees, sundry speeches and action on a resolution of respect in memory of Woodrow Wilson.

The delegates, however, were not given a day off by any means, for the actual start of the convention—mild though it might be—served as a signal for redoubled efforts by the campaigners for the best of candidates for the presidential nomination and by sponsors of the numerous platform proposals.

With most of the state caucuses out of the way, the campaign workers for the various candidates and advocates of this or that declaration of principle seized the moments of freedom left to the delegates prior to the convening of the opening session today to press their claims.

Activity in All Camps

The McAdoo and Smith forces, moving at a swift and rapidly accelerated pace, swept on with their opposing drives, and the Underwood camp, its enthusiasm raised even higher by the Alabama senator's presence, also put on more speed. Likewise, the supporters of John W. Davis, Senator Harrison, James M. Cox and the numerous more or less dark horses, seemed to find the going to their liking.

Although the platform and rules reports will give the 1924 delegates their first chance to do battle for their opinions in the traditional manner, many of them expect the majority of such issues to be settled in committee

NEW YORK, June 24.—The democratic convention set out today to lay down a platform and find a presidential nominee.

The opening program, beginning at noon, daylight saving time, gave light indication of the seething undercurrents of clashing ambitions and opinions that have bewildered the delegates for days and are likely to rock the convention for many more days after disposal of the formalities of temporary and permanent organization.

Under the somewhat tentative program devised by the convention managers tomorrow to give the resolutions committee time to build a platform out of the mass of material prepared largely in advance for its consideration.

High Notes of Today's Session

The caucuses yesterday and last night emphasized rather than diminished the uncertainty that prevails generally among the delegates as to the outcome of their labors. No definite trend suggesting a fight to amend the two-thirds nominating rules emerged from the caucuses, but the subject would not down in lobby gossip and it was said one of the leading candidates might make a move in that direction during the balloting if his vote should exceed a simple majority. Much dissatisfaction with the unit rule was expressed in the caucuses, however, and this offered the most likely prospect of a fight over rules when they are taken up tomorrow.

A special detail of 320 policemen and 50 plainclothesmen also have been added to the regular forces in the Times square section, where the bright lights blossom for those who have time to frisk and play after dark.

Army Flyer Spans North American Continent in Less Than a Day

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24. (By the Associated Press)—Lieut. Russell L. Maughan wrote a new and spectacular chapter in the history of man's conquest of the air yesterday, when he spanned the North American continent in less than a day.

The hazardous and gruelling flight was his third attempt. He left Mitchell Field, New York, at 2:59 1/2 a. m. (eastern standard time), halted briefly at five refuelling stations en route across mountains and plains, fought fatigue and constantly recurring nausea for 21 hours, 47 minutes, 15 seconds and arrived at Crissy Field, San Francisco, at 9:47:15 o'clock (Pacific time), last night.

BRILLIANT ADDRESS

Rev. Percy E. Thomas Speaks To Rotarians on "America's Greatest Problem"

Makes Stirring Plea For Mutual Respect One For the Other

One of the most brilliant addresses ever delivered before Lowell Rotarians was given at the noon-day meeting today by Rev. Percy E. Thomas, pastor of the First Congregational church. It was a discussion of the problem of assimilation of the many heterogeneous groups which make up our citizenry and a plea for mutual respect one for the other as the only solution to the problems which beset us today.

It was an address that could not fail to hit the mark and was embellished with all the brilliance of the speaker's oratorical ability. A master of diction and expression, Mr. Thomas held his audience enthralled and the reception accorded him at the close was the most spontaneous and prolonged ever remembered at the club. Rev. Mr. Thomas announced as his topic, "America's Greatest Problem." Adding that it is not the perplexing question of prohibition, but calling it rather the problem of living together peacefully in spite of our many differences of thought and race.

SAFETY COUNCIL HEAD

LIONS CLUB SPEAKER

Lewis E. MacBrayne, director of the Massachusetts Safety Council, was the principal speaker at today's meeting of the Lions club. The meeting was held at noon in Y.M.C.A. hall, and preceding the main address a short business meeting was held, with President Dr. G. Forrest Martin in the chair.

In his opening remarks, Mr. MacBrayne told briefly of the work of the safety council in the past in teaching automobilists and pedestrians how to avoid accidents.

"It is the age of slogans," he said, "and we are doing our work in various cities throughout the state with slogans as the things which draw the public eye. Two are especially good, 'S.O.S.' safety or sorrow, and 'A.B.C.' always be careful."

Smith and McAdoo Managers Claim Steady Gains as Convention Opens

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, June 24.—The democratic national convention came to order for its first session at 12.43 o'clock. After delaying the opening to allow the police to straighten a traffic jam outside which was keeping hundreds of delegates and visitors from the hall, Chairman Hull, looking refreshed after his attack of exhaustion and heat stroke, brought down the gavel. In brief words he called the great assembly to order and gave way to Cardinal Hayes, who offered the invocation. The great audience stood in silent reverence as the voice of the prelate penetrated to the furthest part of the big garden.

Opera Star Sings National Anthem

At the conclusion of the prayer the band struck up "The Star Spangled Banner" and from the recesses of the bunting and flags upon the rafters thousands of little American flags were released and fluttered down over the heads and shoulders of the delegates.

Then while the band softly played the national anthem, Anna Case of the Metropolitan Opera company sang it, and the great audience joined in the refrain.

U. S. ANXIOUS TO ASSIST EUROPE

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The United States is not willing but anxious to assist Europe in pushing the settlement of her reparations problem, but does not intend to participate in any political difficulties overseas, a spokesman for President Coolidge said today in commenting on the proposed inter-allied conference in London next month to consider means of putting the Dawes plan into effect.

DIRECT SENTENCE IMPOSED IN LOCAL LARCENY CASE

Defendant Found Guilty of Larceny From Shoe Company is Sentenced to House of Correction—Cobblers Fined for Receiving Stolen Goods

Albert J. Morin, 30, was arraigned in district court this morning charged with the larceny of 50 pairs of leather shoes, valued at 40 cents each, the property of the John Filling Shoe Co., where he was employed. He was found guilty and ordered committed to the house of correction for a term of four months, Judge Knight saying that he wished to make an example of him.

In connection with the same case, Francis X. Daigle and Arthur J. Dubois, Merrimack street cobblers, were fined $50 each for receiving stolen goods. They were charged with buying the leather shoes from Morin at a cost of 20 cents a pair.

Morin was arrested as he left his work last evening. Lieut. Martin Maher and Sergt. Philip Dwyer made the arrest when they inspected a bag carried by defendant and found to contain several pairs of shoes. When questioned at police headquarters, Morin confessed to the theft, saying they had been going on periodically for five or six months. He also admitted selling the goods to Daigle and Dubois.

FEDERAL TAXES REPEALED ON ITEMS IN COMMON USE

Internal Revenue Bureau Announces Exemption of Telegrams, Phone Messages, Theatre Admissions, Soft Drinks and Many Other Articles Used by Public at Large

Good news from your Uncle Sam to all the folks who pay the nation's taxes. And this means the folks in Lowell and vicinity and all over.

Additional benefits to taxpayers under the revenue act passed by the last congress, have just been announced by the bureau of internal revenue.

In addition to the 25 per cent refund or credit due each taxpayer on the income tax return for the year 1923, certain taxes are repealed by the act, while others are reduced. The effective dates of these benefits are 4:01 p. m., Washington time, June 2.

Two Boys Arrested After Exciting Chase Are Arraigned in District Court

Fred Rourke and Melvin Willette, the two youths who were arrested last night after an exciting motor chase from North Billerica to Appleton street, this city, and charged with breaking and entering and larceny, were called in district court this morning, and each was continued in $1000 until June 27.

The young men are alleged to have stolen the touring car of Joseph H. Warren from a Garage in Butler avenue last night. When the theft was reported to the police, Motorcycle Officer Frank Murphy set out on the trail of the missing car. In North Billerica, the machine was seen heading back to Lowell, and a merry chase ensued between it and pursuer. At Appleton street, Officer James Garrity brought the stolen machine to a halt and arrested the occupants.

FUNERAL TODAY OF SISTER MADELEINE

The funeral of Sister Madeleine, a young and talented member of the Sisters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul, took place this morning from St. John's hospital, where the deceased nun had been stationed for 16 months as head of the bookkeeping department.

The funeral cortege, composed of the mother, brother, sister, near relatives and friends, proceeded to the immaculate Conception church, where a solemn high mass of requiem was sung at 10 o'clock by Rev. Owen P. McQuaid, O.M.I., assisted by Rev. Martin Norton, O.M.I., as deacon, and Rev. William Noonan, O.M.I., as sub-deacon.

Seated within the sanctuary during the impressive services were the following members of the clergy: Rev. Francis L. Shea, Rev. John M. Manion, Rev. Peter Larkin, Rev. John Kennedy, O.M.I., and Rev. Thomas J. Heneghey, while in attendance at the mass were the Sisters of Charity of two local community houses and a delegation from a Boston house; 50 St. John's hospital nurses in uniform, and the following members of the medical staff of the hospital: Dr. M. A. Tighe, Dr. J. B. O'Connor, Dr. Francis R. Mahony, Dr. Charles Roughton, Dr. Robert Jones, Dr. Fred Murphy, Dr. J. A. McMan, Dr. William Ryan, Dr. James F. Loughran, Dr. George A. Leahy, and Dr. E. J. Egan.

During the mass the choir rendered appropriate music under the direction of Charles P. Smith, with Miss Marion Ryan at the organ. At the offertory "Pie Jesu" was sung by Mrs. Alice Dacey Delmore, and after the elevation, Mr. Raymond Kelley rendered "O Meritum Passionis." As the body was being borne from the church, Mr. Kelley sang "Mother of the Way." Sister Madeleine's favorite hymn.

The bearers were Drs. F. F. Donahoe, R. A. Donahoe, Charles F. Lynch, John J. McNamara, A. E. Conway, P. W. Carrigan.

Burial was in the sisters' lot in St. Patrick's cemetery, where the "Benedictus" was chanted and the committal prayers read by Rev. Fr. McQuaid, O.M.I., assisted by Rev. Fr. Shea, Fr. Manion, Fr. Larkin and Fr. Kennedy.

Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell & Sons.

GEN. DE LA HUERTA KILLED IN BATTLE

MEXICO CITY, June 24.—General Alfonso de la Huerta, brother of the rebel chieftain, has been killed in battle, according to a dispatch received by Senator Cristobal Castillo. Acting on instructions from Candido Aguilar, General de la Huerta attempted to capture Comitan, a small city in Chiapas, but was killed during a battle which lasted 14 hours. The rebels were completely dispersed, according to the dispatch, which does not mention the number of casualties.

FOR BRITISH OPEN GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

HOYLAKE, England, June 24.—(By the Associated Press) MacDonald Smith, the lowest scoring American yesterday with a 72 in the qualifying play for the British open golf championship, took an 81 over the Royal Liverpool course today. His total of 153 is sure to place him among the field of 80 odd professionals and amateurs who will begin the 72 holes of actual championship play here Thursday.

Waiter Hagen, who took 83 on the course here yesterday, went around in 73 over the Formby course today, giving him a total of 156, considered almost certain to qualify him for the championship play.

Hagen's fighting qualities were in evidence again in his uphill job, as a low scorer today after his poor round yesterday, was an absolute necessity if he hoped to qualify.

Gene Sarazen, American professional champion, who scored 75 at Formby yesterday, went out in 35 over 157.

WILLIAMS WINS OVER M'GUIRE IN SINGLES

WIMBLEDON, June 24 (by the Associated Press).—R. Norris Williams II, the American Internationalist, defeated E. A. McGuire of England, in the men's singles of the Wimbledon lawn tennis tournament today, 4-1, 6-4, 6-2. Their match was postponed from yesterday to permit McGuire to play in the Irish championships.

The Royal Liverpool course this forenoon, and it seemed would have little difficulty in qualifying.

A. R. Fapinosa of California scored 54 at Formby, giving him an aggregate of 164. E. R. Whitcombe, England, had 77 for an aggregate of 150.

J. H. Taylor, who led the field yesterday with a seventy at Hoylake, did the Formby course in 75 this forenoon and his aggregate of 142 put him in the lead for the total score.

Gill Nicholas, Providence, 78; total 157.

Series of Deadlocks Predicted as Democratic National Convention Opens

DISAPPEARANCE OF TICKETS

Sensational Rumors of List of Convention Tickets and Favoritism Refuted

Chairman Kremer of Ticket Committee Takes Refuge From Angry Crowds

NEW YORK, June 24.—Sensational rumors of the mysterious disappearance of tickets to the democratic national convention and reports that various candidates had been favored in the distribution of the much sought for cards of admission flew thick and fast today, and were emphatically refuted by J. Bruce Kremer of Montana, vice chairman of the national committee and chairman of the committee on tickets.

Taking refuge behind locked doors from the crowds which stormed in the corridors in a last belated effort to obtain admission to the opening session of the convention, Kremer denounced the reports of the irregularities in the distribution of tickets, as "ridiculous, silly and without foundation."

At the headquarters of all the state delegations there was an almost insatiable demand for tickets and in many instances state chairmen were explaining their inability to meet the demand by remarks which have been interpreted as reflections upon the work of the national committee in charge of the distribution. Each delegate and each alternate has been provided for, but the trouble came from the visitors who have accompanied the delegations in an unofficial capacity.

Charges that different presidential candidates had been unduly favored in the distribution were vehemently denied by Chairman Kremer, who asserted that the plan adopted by the national committee had been faithful to the principle of equal treatment to all who were prepared to show receipts for the tickets to support his declaration.

Never before in the memory of some of the oldest convention attendants has the demand for tickets been greater. In defending himself against the loudly voiced complaints from those frantically attempting to get in on convention hall, Chairman Kremer stated that he was confronted with the impossible task of getting 30,000 or 40,000 people into space provided for 13,000.

State chairmen are attempting to meet the protests and complaints showered upon them by unfortunate members of the press who have been unable to obtain tickets by distributing their quota of extra tickets, with which each delegation has been supplied upon an apportionment basis fixed by the national committee so that each person accompanying the delegation will have an opportunity to attend at least one session.

DELEGATES AND VISITORS ATTEND BANQUET

NEW YORK, June 24.—Delegates and distinguished visitors attending the democratic national convention were guests at a dinner given last night in their honor by the city of New York.

Thirty-five hundred persons attended the dinner, served in the ballroom of the Commodore hotel and attended by Gov. Smith among others.

Redman Wannamaker acted as toastmaster and with Mayor Hylan welcomed the delegates to New York. C. W. Smith, chairman of the national committee, responded.

Officials, a law so modern and so elastic as to meet the constant needs of trade and commerce and to act as a panacea against panics and a cure for industrial ills. A law which the temporary chairman of the Cleveland convention said, "Serves as a bulwark to the financial life of the nation and was so helpful during the war should be left alone." We will leave it alone, and not one of the pillars upon which it rests will be removed, but we will not permit a reactionary republican leadership, dominated by selfish groups, to divert it from its real purpose and turn over its administration to its plant tools.

BAY STATE DELEGATES

Walsh Elected Chairman—

Quinn and Mrs. Sullivan Re-elected

NEW YORK, June 24.—The Massachusetts delegation to the democratic national convention met at the Hotel Belmont late yesterday afternoon, organized by choosing Senator David I. Walsh chairman, re-elected Mayor Edward W. Quinn of Cambridge and Mrs. Nellie F. Sullivan of Fall River as the two Massachusetts members of the national committee, and urged the Massachusetts member of the convention committee on resolutions to do all he could to bring about the adoption of the plank denouncing in terms the Ku Klux Klan.

Senator Walsh was doubly honored this year as he was in San Francisco in 1920, for, in addition to his election as chairman of the delegation, he was chosen the Massachusetts member of the committee on resolutions. Both of these distinctions were bestowed on him without a dissenting voice among the delegates.

James H. Vahey of Watertown was elected vice chairman of the delegation and Helen A. MacDonald of Boston was made second vice chairman.

The other Massachusetts places on the committees of the convention were filled by the following elections: Credentials, Roland D. Sawyer of Ware; permanent organization, Charles F. Campbell of Worcester; rules and orders, Daniel J. Daley of Brookline; to notify the presidential candidate of his nomination, Mayor Lawrence J. Quigley of Chelsea; to notify the vice presidential candidate, Miss Mary E. Mehan of Boston.

Meeting Harmonious

The predictions had been that the meeting of the delegation would be turbulent and bitter, that the Boston democrats would fight Senator Walsh and compel him to give up either the chairmanship of the delegation or the place on the committee on resolutions, that an attempt would be made to discipline or at least hold up to censure the members of the delegation who do not intend to vote for Smith for president, and that there would be a hard-fought contest over the proposed resolution condemning the Ku Klux Klan by name.

But not one of these outbreaks took place. The meeting was most peaceful and harmonious. And most every action was taken unanimously.

The only time the votes were counted was in the election of the woman member of the democratic national committee. Mrs. Michael A. O'Leary of Brookline ran for this office in opposition to Mrs. Sullivan, who was a candidate for re-election on this ballot, which was secret in order, as one of the delegates expressed it, that they might not be embarrassed by openly voting against either of two worthy candidates. The count was: Mrs. Sullivan, 40, Mrs. O'Leary, 23.

RESOLUTION IN MEMORY OF WOODROW WILSON

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, June 24.—When today's session of the democratic national convention adjourns, it will be with a resolution in memory of Woodrow Wilson.

Drawn by Senator Glass of Virginia, one of the former president's friends and introduced by Mrs. Frank Reeves of Washington state, the resolution reads:

"Resolved: That the democratic party of the nation in convention assembled, profoundly laments the death of that incomparable American, Woodrow Wilson, whose leadership and achievements constitute an epoch in the world's history. In deepest homage to his memory we fervently invoke his spirit to inspire the activities of this body and make clear the conception of patriotism which signalized his conduct of the government. His administration, so notable for its accomplishment in the realm of real statesmanship, will forever remain a source of pride to future generations. American democracy is honored and American citizenship adorned by the character, faith and idealism of this great man. We are glad to exalt his record and to take inspiration from the things he said and did."

RADIO SERVICE FOR WOMEN AND CHILDREN

NEW YORK, June 24.—The sandman and women democratic leaders are going to the mat over what shall be bedtime for the children from tonight until the close of the convention.

The women have arranged a special radio convention service for women and children to begin each night after the convention closes. Women leaders are hopeful that the children will be kept up to hear the convention story regardless of how late it comes.

Louise Graham Harding, a former Cleveland newspaper woman, who now handles women's publicity for the democrats, will be the sand woman of the convention service. She will sit in the press section throughout all sessions, translate convention high lights into the language of inexperienced politicians and begin broadcasting a few minutes after the convention closes. Completion of the radio arrangements pleased the women and caused them to boast they had scored over their republican sisters.

TO ROUND UP DELEGATES FOR SMITH

NEW YORK, June 24.—The Smith forces, under direction of Norman B. Maclean, former national chairman of the democratic party, were still trying today to round up the southern delegates under the Al Smith banner.

"We are making progress," said Mr. Maclean, "and it is surprising the sentiment that is developing among the delegates, many of whom say they are going to make Smith their second choice."

Governor Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska called at Mr. Maclean's headquarters.

"I don't look for a long fight in the resolutions committee," said Governor Bryan, "and I believe that the platform will be ready for presentation on Thursday, that is, if the numerous social functions that are on the program do not cause postponements of the committee's sessions."

sears of normalcy and revive prosperity. We will recover and conserve our national resources. We will drive every racial from high position and see to it that self-confessed and high criminals who now run at large untried, shall not go further unwhipped of punishment.

An administration steeped in corruption and lawlessness in the observance of law naturally breeds immorality and disrespect for law.

The democratic party will have neither pets nor puppets to protect or corrupt cabinet members to coddle.

We will rigidly enforce the law, whether the violator be a bloated trust magnate, a congressional bribe taker, an embezzler of the public domain, or a disreputable bootlegger.

We will eliminate governmental favoritism and strike from the statutes every discriminating provision that takes from "the mouth of labor the bread it earns."

We will readjust tariff rates and reduce transportation charges.

We will lay bare campaign bribery and punish election frauds.

We will go to the relief of distressed agriculture and adopt such policies and pass such laws as will restore permanently the purchasing power of the farmer's dollar and again place it on a par with that of other industries.

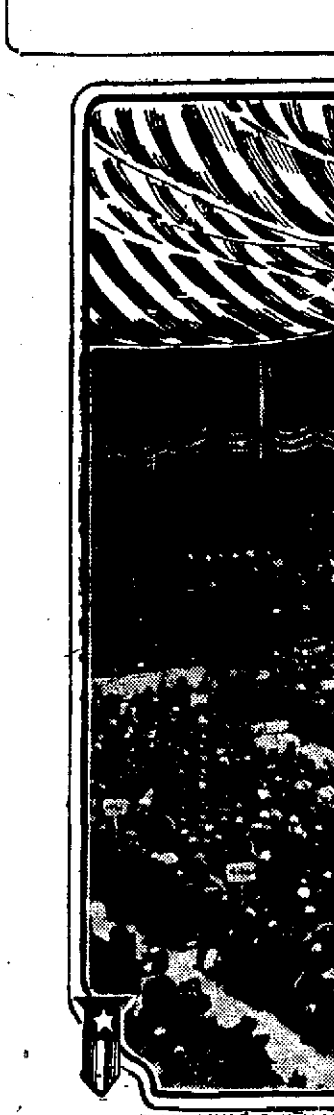

We will remove from the administration of the civil service every influence of fraud and ineptitude efficiency in government.

We will put a stop to republican procrastination and adopt a progressive reclamation policy.

Recognizing our obligations as a great humane power, we will assume in many fashion our responsibilities to the world.

Democracy, the Right Way

CONVENTION HALL

mortal Jefferson in the imperishable parchment of our Declaration of Independence, and indelibly written in everlasting terms into the Constitution of the United States.

Ladies and gentlemen of the convention, may I say in closing that this is a democratic year. Victory is within our grasp if we but reach out for it. Let us remember that too much is at stake for the hideous form of friction to frown upon this convention. Our guns and all our guns against the common enemy. Nothing must happen here to divide our councils or dampen our ardor.

The fires of democracy must not flicker. The hope of the people lies in the action of this convention. There must be no skulking; there can be no mutiny. Winning is not wicked. Strategy is no sin. Far better is it for the American people and the future of the democratic party that in this convention we deny to ourselves some vaunted expression or surrender some temporary advantage than that we may succeed in this campaign than tenaciously to persist and lose.

A great duty and a high responsibility rests upon us in this solemn and critical hour of the nation's life. Every impulse of decency, of human sympathy, of fair dealing, cries out and urges us on to action—militant, aggressive action. With struggling millions of men and women throughout the country calling upon us and humanity everywhere exhorting us onward, the greatest army of democratic men and women will not retreat before the enemy upon the great battlefield of this campaign. We shall not fail.

No matter who may be the choice of this convention, we will rally around our leader, clad in the armor of a righteous cause, attracting to our standard all the forces of right and the flag of democracy waves triumphantly from every rampart and the govt. battle there will accompany us in the visible presence of the fathers of democracy. It would seem now we can hear the soft voice of sweet reasonableness coming to us from Monticello, the voice of "Old Hickory" coming across the Blue Ridge from the Hermitage, and from that historic city of St. Albans we hear the mighty calling to us: "To you, from falling hands, we throw the torch. Carry on, carry on, hold it high! Hold it high! Carry on, carry on, keep the faith, keep the faith."

Robinson, Arkansas, Chairman

NEW YORK, June 24.—Senator Robinson, the democratic leader of the senate, was announced today as chairman of the Arkansas delegation with W. H. Arnold, member of the rules committee, and Senator Caraway, member of the resolutions committee.

Vermont Delegates Organize

NEW YORK, June 24.—The Vermont delegation to the democratic national convention at its caucus re-elected National Committeeman Frank H. Duffy, selected J. P. Mahoney of Montpelier chairman and assigned J. P. Leamy and Fred C. Martin to the committees on resolutions and rules, respectively.

Mrs. Inez Knight Allen, one of Utah's delegates at large to the democratic convention doesn't agree with her husband, R. E. Allen of Provo, on politics. Two weeks ago, he was in Cleveland as a delegate to the Republican convention.

Arrangements for broadcasting the proceedings of the convention as arranged by the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., and the Radio Corporation of America, are expected to make the big show available to 50,000,000 people. Of course, hardly that many will hear the speeches and halting, but half the population of the country could listen in if they had radio sets.

The convention hall is hooked with 13 stations located as far west as Kansas City.

solve, Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, declared today in sounding the keynote at the convention.

In an address condemning the republican administration—its policies, both domestic and foreign—the temporary chairman called on democrats everywhere, "with victory within their grasp," to unite against a common enemy.

"Oh for one in the White House," he said, "whose heart might be melted and courage aroused to sympathize and fight. Would that we once more might see in that exalted position one with the courage of a Jackson, the militant honesty of a Cleveland, the matchless statesmanship and the fine fighting qualities of a Woodrow Wilson."

Senator Harrison ran the gamut of the Harding-Coolidge administration in a series of biting criticisms. A large part of his speech was taken up with a resume of the disclosures of senate investigating committees, the oil policies, in particular, came in for vigorous denunciation.

"Show this administration an oil well," he said, "and it will show you a foreign policy."

13,000 Pack Garden

Thirteen thousand party war horses, delegates and spectators packed Madison Square Garden to see the curtain rise on the first act of the drama—a stupendous production with an all star cast, many superlatives and indefinite number of scenes.

For a few brief hours there was a lull in the coralling of delegates and the claims of the campaign managers while all assembled to hear Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, the temporary chairman, sound the call of the party keynote, and let the convention accomplish some of the necessary routine preliminaries.

Probably a third as many people got in for the first session as hoped to; probably half as many got in as expected to; a good many who expected choice seats stood up, and meantime the leaders on all sides disclaimed heatedly that there had been any "funny business" about the distribution of tickets or that the great hall was being packed for some body.

Notables on Platform

A long list of notables in party achievements, past and present, had places of honor on the platform, and in the guest spaces in the arena and in the galleries were thousands to whom the sultry heat of mid-day in June meant nothing so long as they held the coveted places to see the show.

Puller lines were early established to keep back throngs who had no tickets but hoped to gain admission somehow. The lucky ones with the scarce tickets were ushered through the ropes which began three blocks away.

Today's session, a comparatively brief one although well recognized by the old timers as a necessary preliminary to the strenuous days ahead, was charged with the intense feelings which have been built up in the pre-convention campaign.

Smith and McAdoo Claim Gains

With Smith and McAdoo managers both claiming steady gains, and the second choice candidates waiting patiently for the moment when they are confident both the leaders will whirl into the consolidated their positions and wait for the opening gun.

Both the delegates and the convention guests, anxious to miss nothing from the drop of the hat, were early in assembly. A half-hour before the opening bang of the gavel, many of the seats on the floor were occupied and the aisles were crowded with delegates who were asking their friends from other states what was in store during the days to come.

Portraits of Past Leaders

The lighting effects brought out plainly the four portraits of past party leaders which were hung over the four corners of the central section where the platform and the seats of the delegates were located. Jackson and Cleveland faced each other across the delegate arena while pictures of Jefferson and Wilson hung above opposite ends of the platform.

The seating arrangements presented a picture not seen in recent years in a national convention.

Missouri and Iowa in Front

Brand new, unfinished kitchen stairs were arranged for the delegates beneath the high-raised standards of the states, which themselves stood on a level with the high floor of the platform. While the delegates came in a constantly increasing buzz of conversation almost drowned out the music furnished by a band stationed in a far gallery.

Missouri and Iowa had the places of honor on the floor, with their delegations seated in the front row in left and right of the center aisle. Behind, on the right of Iowa, was New Jersey and then Ohio and New York.

Kansas, Oklahoma and Montana were ranged behind Missouri on the left. Senator Walsh of Montana, the oil committee prosecutor, who will be the permanent chairman of the convention came in early and took his seat under the Montana standard. John W. Davis, whose friends think he may emerge victor from the candidatorial tug of war, appeared on the platform, chatting with Josephus Daniels and Senator Fletcher of Florida.

Chairman Hull Arrives

Chairman Hull of the national committee, reached the platform a few minutes before noon. A minute later Senator Harrison, ready to make his keynote address, joined the group on the platform, and at about the same time, William Jennings Bryan appeared on the floor to take his seat as a member of the Florida delegation.

The great commoner, three times the standard bearer of his party, got the first applause of the convention. It was a short burst of handclapping by those about him on the floor. He beamed on everybody.

A few minutes after 12 o'clock Senator Carter Glass, also mentioned as a possible dark horse, selection for the presidency, came to the convention floor, and was given a rousing reception with several hurrahs by the members of the Virginia delegation.

Sergeants-at-arms assisted by police officers began circulating through the aisles at 12:15 endeavoring to persuade the delegates to take their seats but at first they had little success. The Garden electrician tested out his battery of spotlights, rained about the overhanging galleries, throwing the platform under a white glare. The show was about to start.

LA FOLLETTE PARTY TO MEET IN CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, June 24.—If Senator La Follette is nominated to the presidency by the conference for progressive political action, it will be in the same hall in which his Wisconsin supporters and the platform he advocates were hoisted and cheered during the republican national convention.

City council voted unanimously last night to let the conference use the municipal-owned public hall for its convention July 4 on the same terms as those allowed the republicans—a rental of $1. The convention is expected to draw 2000 delegates besides scores of newspapermen.

MATRIMONIAL

Miss Hattie N. Covell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Covell, of Newport, N. H., and Mr. Irving Hoyt of Cambridge, were united in marriage on June 17, at the home of Mrs. W. J. Wiggin, 440 Westford street, this city. Rev. W. J. Setzer, pastor of the Central Baptist church, officiated. The bride wore a blue suit and hat to match, and carried bridal roses and sweet peas. Miss Hazel Covell, of Newport, N. H., sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a blue Canton crepe gown and carried tea roses. The bride's gift to her maid of honor was a fur neck piece and the bridegroom's gift to his best man, Mr. George Clark, was a pair of green gold cuff links.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt left for an extended trip to New York. On their return they will reside at 156 Tenth street, this city.

Sullivan-O'Brien

Last evening at 5 o'clock, a pretty June wedding took place in the Sacred Heart church, when Miss Gladys Sullivan of 4 Olive street, and Mr. James O'Brien were united in marriage. Rev. Charles F. Barry, O.M.I., performed the ceremony. Miss Alice O'Brien, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor, and Mr. William Sullivan, brother of the bride, was best man. The bride wore a dress of white crepe and a veil caught up with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and sweet peas. The maid of honor wore a gown of Nile green crepe and hat to match. She carried pink roses. The bride presented a silver mesh bag to her maid and the bridegroom's present to the best man was a pair of platinum cuff links. After the ceremony, a wedding supper was served at the home of the bride, following which Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien left on an extended wedding tour. On their return they will reside at 4 Olive street.

Dupont-Lanoue

A very pretty wedding took place last evening at 5 o'clock, in the rectory of St. Louis church, when Miss Antoinette Lanoue of 135 Coburn street, and Mr. Raymond Dupont, of 220 White street, were united in marriage. Rev. Fr. Gauthier performed the ceremony. The couple were attended by Mr. Ernest Lanoue and Mr. Arthur Dupont. The bride wore a gown of white tulle and veil caught up with lilies of the valley. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Lanoue. Relatives and friends from all parts of New England were present. Mr. and Mrs. Dupont left last evening on an extended honeymoon tour. They will return as of about the third of July.

HAMS MAY TIE WORLD FRIENDSHIP

By ISRAEL KLEIN

N.E.A. Service Radio Editor

The private citizens of the world promise to accomplish what their official representatives and diplomats have so far failed to effect.

It is the cultivation of an international friendship and understanding by means of radio communication. Already amateurs of America, England and France are staging regular conversations across the Atlantic, sending congratulations and other friendly greetings and expressions of confidence in one another. A few weeks ago Argentina was heard in this country by another "ham" who replied with an expression of good will and best wishes by wireless.

Radio "Bell"

American-built broadcasting stations promise soon to knit the entire globe within a belt of powerful stations which will be able to relay a message around the earth with the speed of light. It is the forerunner of what is expected to become an international broadcasting system for the transmission of news and other forms of entertainment from one country to another.

A few days ago a Dutch amateur, who had succeeded in "getting America" as far west as Nebraska, was hailed by the authorities who said the amateur had used his set without authority from the minister in charge of communications. But he was released and a victory was won for the private citizens who are communicating with one another without governmental red tape.

No Points Way

It is the international language, is being advocated for radio communication between countries. Esperanto is another international language, based on roots from the major languages of the world.

One of these, or perhaps, another form of world language, may some day become universal through application of radio communication. Lessons in it have already been broadcast from various broadcasting stations, and the language has been spread through other means.

The American Radio Relay league has been looking about for just such an international language so that their amateur members may the more easily communicate with those of other countries. It would mean a saving of time and considerable trouble converting one language into another.

And a universal language would be one of the strongest possible ties to bind the nations into world unity.

Getting Skinnier Every Day

Something Must Be Done and Done Darn Quick, Too

Tens of thousands of thin, run-down men—yes, and women too—are getting discouraged—are giving up all hope of ever being able to take on flesh and look healthy and strong.

All such people can stop worrying and start to smile right now.

For McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets, which any druggist will tell you all about, are putting flesh on bones of skinnies every day.

One woman, tired, weak and discouraged, put on 15 pounds in five weeks and feels fine.

We all know that Cod Liver Oil is full of such producing vitamins, but many people can't take it because of its horrible smell and fishy taste, and because it often upsets the stomach.

McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets are as easy to take as candy, and if any thin person doesn't gain at least five pounds in 30 days, your druggist will give you your money back—and only 60 cents a box. Ask Green's Drug Store, A. W. Dows & Co., Fred Howard, or any live pharmacist anywhere.

HEADS BROTHERHOOD OF LOCOMOTIVE ENGINEERS

CLEVELAND, June 24.—L. G. Griffing, Long Island, N. Y., today was elected grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. Only one ballot was taken. Griffing was formerly a vice president of the brotherhood.

DIRECTION SYSTEM ELIMINATES STATIC

The directional system of broadcasting reception in one way of eliminating static interference, according to E. P. W. Alexanderson, famous radio engineer and inventor of the Alexanderson alternator, which permits of trans-oceanic wireless telephony.

"The ether is imagined to be a disturbed ocean with waves of every length rolling in from all directions," Alexanderson explains.

"These waves are of the same nature as the signal wave. Those disturbing waves which are of different wavelength from the desired signal can be shut out by the same means—as is used for shutting out other signals, that is, by tuning."

"But the disturbing waves which have the same wavelength as the desired signal are in all respects of the same nature and pass through the tuning system like the signal."

"It is apparent that if some ground for discrimination can be found other than wavelength we would have a higher order of selectivity than is obtainable in the ordinary tuned receiver. Such a principle has been found and has proved to be one of the most important developments in radio communication."

"If a receiver is constructed which is sensitive to waves coming from only one direction then waves from any other direction can be shut out if they have the same wavelength. This is the principle of directive reception."

ALASKAN FIND

This Atlas home—the uppermost in man's spine—that Dr. Charles E. Still is holding, was discovered nearly 300 miles above the Arctic Circle. The prospector who found it at first thought it was a gold nugget. But Dr. Still, in Fairbanks, Alaska, at the time, knew better. The doctor, now in Kirksville, Mo., is the oldest son of Dr. A. T. Still, founder of osteopathy.

To Award Contract for Asphalt Material Continued

not sustained by facts as he views it, and that the Indian head is low bidder and entitled to the contract. He disposed of the contention of Counselor O'Donoghue, that the original specifications were changed by stating he believes the changes were for the best interests of the city.

No reference is made to the contention raised at last Monday's conference by Mr. O'Donoghue that the changes were made by verbal instructions of the purchasing agent and that Simpson Bros. or their representatives were not notified. The purchase agent claims that Simpson Bros. through their representative were given oral notification of changes to be permitted in the form of bidding. There is no reference to this phase in the statement, which follows:

"After consideration of all features involved in the award of a contract by the purchasing agent to the Indian Head Construction company for the furnishing of asphaltic materials, I have decided to approve the contract and will sign it sometime today."

"I am satisfied that the decision of the purchasing agent has been made for the best interests of the city; that the Indian Head Construction company is, in reality, the lowest bidder and that the arguments presented by Simpson Brothers company that their firm is the lowest bidder are not sustained by facts."

"Last year I awarded the contract to Simpson Brothers because I felt this company was the lowest bidder, and in all fairness entitled to the contract. I am applying the same line of reasoning this year, in the present situation, even though Simpson Brothers fail to receive the contract."

"At the recent conference it was maintained that the specifications were changed in the purchasing agent's office. Material changes were made and in my opinion advisable but not until the city engineers' office was made acquainted with the proposed changes. One of these changes was to make the language of the specifications clear enough so as to avoid any possibility of contract labor on work which could be performed by city employees."

Another change reduced from $10,000 to $2500 the amount of the certified check required to be filed with bids. These changes were made by the purchasing agent and in no way affected competitive bidding."

I find also that another change was made in the office of the purchasing agent, that the successful bidder must give a construction bond, the amount of which shall be set by the purchasing agent, and a guarantee covering the work for a period of five years. I believe that the interests of the city will be sufficiently safeguarded in this respect."

"Based upon computation of materials and tonnage involved in this contract the award made to the Indian Head Construction company was a proper one. In my opinion the city has made a good contract and is the gainer, inasmuch as the company is to furnish bonds to insure completion of the terms of the contract to the satisfaction of the board of public service and the engineering department."

Lt. Maughan Reaches Goal Continued

him an almost unparalleled ovation upon his arrival.

"Gee, but it's good to be here!" he said as jubilant comrades of the air service lifted him bodily from the cockpit of his plane. "I am tired, but happy."

The ostentatious reception was in sharp contrast to the lonely, single-handed battle which the airman waged throughout the day in his race with the sun.

Encountered Rough Weather

Lt. Maughan soared away from Mitchell Field in the scorching light of a half moon, undaunted by prospects of none too favorable weather, a cloud-flecked sky and the knowledge of his two previous failures.

From the start he encountered rough weather but surmounted all difficulties as he drove his powerful P-W-S army pursuit plane westward.

Darkness enshrouded San Francisco Bay as Lt. Maughan appeared. The drone of his motor came to the ears of the waiting thousands and they broke into prolonged cheers. The flyer circled the field twice, his airplane blotting from view part of the time by a light mist. Then he shot downward and taxied almost to the door of army headquarters in a perfect landing.

The belt buckle of the world had been pulled up a few notches.

Averaged 150 Miles an Hour

Lt. Maughan flew at an average speed of approximately 150 miles an hour, he said, making less than that above 2000 feet and more at or under that height.

"I was mighty glad" to see the lights of "Crisis Field," he commented. "I lost them for a while but quickly picked them up again."

"I bucked head winds for two-thirds of the way, and the rest of the way I bucked a heavy cross wind."

His plane, he explained, was a type now being tried out by the air service, differing only in that adjustments were made enabling him to carry 50 gallons more of gasoline. The machine, a 275-horse power single seater, appeared to be in perfect mechanical condition when he arrived. It is of nearly the same type as that in which he made his two previous attempts to span the continent in a day. On the first flight, July 19, 1923, a small motor ailment led to abandonment of the flight. Ten days later he tried again, but at Rock Springs, Wyo., was forced down by an oil leak.

Lt. Maughan went to the home of Lt. Col. William E. Gilmore, in charge of the air force at Crissy Field, where he will be a guest several days.

NEW MASONIC TEMPLE

Corner Stone of $1,000,000

Building at Springfield

Laid Today

SPRINGFIELD, June 24.—The corner stone of the imposing new $1,000,000 Masonic temple was laid today by Grand Master Dudley H. Ferrell of Lynn, in the presence of the largest gathering in the local history of Free Masonry. More than 2500 representatives of lodges in western New England took part in the parade that preceded the ceremony, including Knights Templars commanderies of this city, Holyoke and Hartford, Conn. Assisting the grand master in laying the corner stone were Mayor E. F. Leonard of this city and Mayor Norman B. Stevens of Hartford. At the conclusion of the ceremonies, the Templar commanderies held an outing in celebration of St. John's day.

MORE REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS REPORTED

The sale of two well known parcels of real estate in residential sections of the city is reported today through the office of T. H. Elliott company.

Mark J. McCann of the Prince-McCann company, has sold his modern 8-room English type bungalow at 10 Havilah street to Frederick H. Burrell of Winchester. He is now connected with the Bon Marche.

Included in the transfer was 11,643 square feet of land. The selling price is said to have been slightly in excess of $13,000.

A modernized four-apartment block at 155-157 School street has been sold

CAN'T BEAT "TIZ" WHEN FEET HURT

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "Tiz" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up and you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "Tiz" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "Tiz." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "Tiz." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

A few cents buy a box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel—Adv.

BRITAIN AND BELGIUM

TO AID FRANCE

BRUSSELS, June 24.—Premier Herriot of France, who arrived here last evening after his conference with the British prime minister at Chequers court, has received assurance that Great Britain and Belgium will aid France, as it did in 1914, in case another unjustified attack is made upon her, he is quoted as declaring in an interview published by the Independence Belge.

"In case of premeditated aggression by Germany," he said, "I have the assurance of a defensive pact that would bind France, England and Belgium. I have the most formal promise that now, as in 1914, a German attack would find England standing with France and Belgium."

ALL HOPE OF BRITISH RECOGNITION GONE

EL PASO, Tex., June 24.—Mexican authorities by their conduct have defeated all hope of British recognition, H. A. Cummins, British agent who left Mexico City, after having declined an expulsion order of President Obregon, declared yesterday upon his arrival here to visit friends. Cummins assailed what he characterized as the inexactitudes and exaggerations of the Mexican government.

The British agent was charged with sending discourteous notes to the Mexican government. Ordered deported, he was a prisoner within the legation from June 10 to June 19, when President Obregon withdrew the deportation order and announcement was made in London that arrangements for the withdrawal of Cummins from Mexico had been completed.

by Robert H. Elliott of Westford to John Flynn. The selling price was approximately $12,000.

TRIAL OF FORBES AGAIN POSTPONED

CHICAGO, June 4.—Trial of Charles R. Forbes, formerly head of the veterans' bureau and John W. Thompson, St. Louis and Chicago contractor, was postponed for the third time, yesterday, at the instance of Assistant Attorney General John W. Cram. The case was set for hearing July 14, but it was reported at the Federal building that it would not come to trial until fall. Forbes and Thompson are under indictment charged with bribery and conspiracy to corrupt government officials.

MEETING OF STREET RAILWAY MEN'S UNION

A regular business meeting of local 280, street railway men's union, was held this morning in the union hall in the Grosvenor block with President Thomas J. Powers in the chair. A second meeting, for men unable to attend this morning's session, will be held at 8 o'clock this evening.

The result of the vote taken last week on the union agreement will not be made known until the last of this week, according to President Powers, and until that time the substance of the agreement will not be made public.

SAYS $500,000 SUIT

RESULT OF CONSPIRACY

NEW YORK, June 24.—Emanuel Victor Modica, a chauffeur of Newark, N. J., charges that the $500,000 suit filed some time ago by his wife, Mrs. Madeline Helen Modica, against the Countess De Perigny, sister of Harry K. Thaw, for the alleged alienation of his affections, was the result of a conspiracy. The charge is made in a suit for $500,000 brought by him against his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Da Martine, and her brother, Attila Martine, charging alienation of her affections.

Supreme Court Justice Benedict reserved decision on a motion made by the defendants to strike the conspiracy charges from the complaint.

WEALTHY CHICAGO MEN RECEIVE THREATS

CHICAGO, June 24.—Terrorization of the wealthy residents of Chicago's exclusive "gold coast" by writers of letters threatening death, kidnapping and mutilation is under extensive police investigation.

Edward Hines, wealthy lumberman, and Dr. Homer S. Warren, president of the National Pathological Laboratories, are among those who have received threats which police believe are the work of cranks, inspired by the kidnapping and slaying of Robert Franks.

41 PRISONERS TUNNEL WAY TO FREEDOM

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 24.—Forty-one prisoners, tunneled their way from the Shelby county jail last night. Four were captured during the night and posers are seeking the others today.

The prisoners escaped by digging a hole in a three foot brick wall, using an iron cot.

WIND LEVELS BARN, PINNING TWO IN RUINS

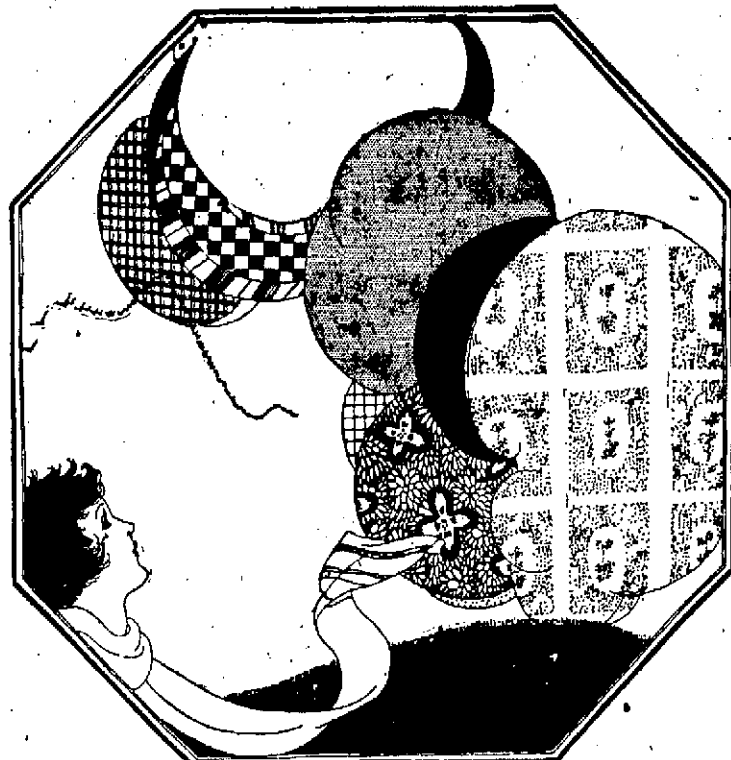

ITHACA, N. Y., June 24.—A whirlwind of unusual proportions late last night, leveled a barn on the farm of Daniel Gaylord, in Groton township, pinning the owner and his wife in the wreckage. Gaylord had four fractured ribs and other injuries, while his wife received severe bruises and shock. Both will recover.

MOTOR TRANSPORT TRAIN

A motor transport train of the U. S. army passed through this city at 5:40 yesterday afternoon carrying the personnel and equipment of the Fifth Infantry. The train came from Fort Land, Maine, where the Fifth has its winter quarters, and was bound for Camp Devens, summer quarters of this unit. There were nearly 50 motor lorries, a number of equipment trucks, two motorcycles and one staff car in the transport.

ORGANIZE BALTIMORE SHOE WORKERS

HAVERHILL, June 24.—The Shoe Workers Protective union announced today through its general offices, that organizers of the union had organized the shoe workers of Baltimore, Md., and that a charter had been granted the Baltimore workers. It is stated that several thousand workers are employed in Baltimore factories, but have previously had no union affiliation. The organizers report approximately 500 to 1200 shoe workers of the greater New York district had seceded from the Amalgamated union. The Protective membership now reaches 30,000 shoe workers.

BRAKEMAN FELL TO HIS DEATH

FOUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 24.—Hugh J. Maslin, of this city, brakeman of the Central New England railroad was killed yesterday near Upton Lake, when he fell from the top of a car. His mangled body was found by a man who was walking along the tracks.

COMPENSATION ALLOWED

Through the law office of George H. Allard, the Boston and Maine railroad has agreed to compensate Stanley Wojcik, administrator of the estate of Albert Wojcik in the sum of $3200. Albert Wojcik was killed by a crane while at work in the B. and M. carshop at Billerica on March 17 last. The suit was for $8000.

Every human death may be attributed to interference with respiration with the action of the heart or with the nervous system.

ITEMS OF INTEREST IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, June 24.—The financial district understands that the committee for the first mortgage bondholders of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Co., which has been given the right to foreclose on the bonds, will not exercise this right. The action was taken, it was said, to protect the bondholders rather than to liquidate their holdings. Plans for rehabilitating the company are awaiting the report of the engineers now studying its properties and prospects.

Wall street rumors that the Canadian Pacific would shortly absorb its lines in this country, among which are the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie, and the Wisconsin Central, are discredited in well-informed rail circles. Such a procedure would place the Canadian Pacific in an organization under the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission, the value of which one banker pointed out, was reflected in the selling of Union Pacific stock around 124 and Canadian Pacific at 146, despite the inequality in dividend payments and larger earnings of the American system.

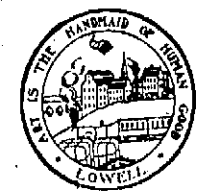

Finance delegates to the League of Nations are expected soon to prepare for equalization of the Austrian dollar, according to cable advices issued by New York bankers. The recent money prices, it was reported, is being overcome, month-end settlements on franc positions having been made without any insolvencies.

An issue of $10,000,000 Virginian Railway Co. first mortgage 50 year 5 per cent gold bonds, series A, due 1982, priced at 90 and interest to yield about 5 1/2 per cent, heads the list of new offerings today. Others included $1,000,000 Appalachian Power Co., 6 per cent gold debentures, series A, at 87 to yield 6.85 per cent.

To permit trading on the New York cotton exchange immediately following publication of the government crop report, members are considering a new rule to extend closing hours on any Saturday into the afternoon. The change is proposed mainly to take account of the report to be issued at noon on Saturday, Aug. 3. All other crop predictions and estimates will be issued before the close of the market.

Good Climate

Not everyone can choose the climate in which he is forced to live. And Anytown, was no balmy California or Florida town.

So the Manns, like most people, had to adapt themselves to the existing climatic conditions.

Climate, of itself, has been found to be a lesser consideration. What is important is that a person take advantage of the fresh air to be obtained wherever he or she may live.

The main advantage of fresh air may be had wherever you may live. Even in a large city outdoor air is, except in unusual cases, most invigorating. The old cry of "it's too damp" is being downed by hygienic investigation. It is being found that prejudices against common dampness are really exaggerate the evils. It's healthier to live in damp or foggy air than to remain a shut-in.

Those who react to dampness, drafts and all such changes are quite likely to be the people who spend great portions of their time shut up in rooms and offices.

So don't worry about climate. If you can afford to go to one that pleases you more, so right along. If you can't, get acquainted with the air at home.

HAS SLEEPING SICKNESS

World War Veteran is Undergoing Treatment at Local Hospital

Omar Lafraniere, 26 years, and a veteran of the World war, has been confined at St. John's hospital since the 16th of the month with a pronounced case of sleeping sickness. He has been under the care of a physician for nearly a month, but it was only a week ago that his condition became serious enough to warrant his removal to the hospital. His condition now shows signs of improvement. Lafraniere sleeps nearly 24 hours a day, waking only long enough to eat one meal, and then lapsing back into a dormant state almost immediately. His only daily meal is a hearty one and for this reason it is believed his recovery is but a question of time.

MT. TOM ONE OF NEW ENGLAND'S SHOW SPOTS

Mt. Tom, near Holyoke, Mass., is one of the show spots in New England and is reached from Mountain park, powerful electric cable cars bearing the visitor to the Summit house, a distance of about a mile in less than 10 minutes. From the summit, enchanting views of mountains and valleys, river and lakes, villages and farms are to be had on every hand. Mt. Tom rears itself 1000 feet abruptly from the levels of the territory around about and located in a most picturesque section of the Connecticut river valley, furnishes a scenic panorama not to be excelled in all New England.

Cars run half-hourly from 12.23 a. m. There is an excellent restaurant at the Summit house and there are also pavilions indoors and outdoors for those who bring their own lunch. Automobiles may be parked at Mountain park, a few steps from the cable electric railway. There are many large telescopes, maps, comfortable verandas, all free to visitors. The round trip fare is only 50 cents from Mountain park.

KNIGHT TEMPLARS GO TO GLOUCESTER

Members of Pilgrim Commandery, Knights Templars, left Lowell at 8 o'clock today to join 15 other state commanderies in the observance of St. John's day at Gloucester. At 10.30 a. m. the local commandery will take part in a celebration parade, after which there will be luncheon, games and sports at Stage Fort park. A banquet at 5 p. m. will complete the festivities.

The Pilgrim commandery members made the trip to the North Shore in automobiles. The committee in charge included Frank W. Dobson, E.C.; Harold D. MacDonald, generalissimo, and Alvan H. Caver, G.G.

PONZI ARRAIGNED ON CHILDREN LIKE THEM

TEN INDICTMENTS

BOSTON, June 23.—Charles Ponzi, whose five-year term of imprisonment in the Plymouth jail on federal charges connected with his scheme of high finance expires on Aug. 6, was arraigned in the superior court here today on ten indictments for larceny. Bail was fixed at $14,000, and Judge Bishop named Oct. 8 as the date for trial.

Twenty-two indictments were returned against Ponzi by the Suffolk county grand jury. His trial several months ago on 12 of these indictments resulted in acquittal. When he is released from Plymouth, he will be brought to the Charles Street jail in this city, where he will remain until he is able to furnish bail.

Ponzi, asking the court to release him on his own recognizance, said that he was penniless.

GOVERNMENT RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Government receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30 will exceed expenses by more than $500,000,000, Secretary Mellon announces. The tax reduction program submitted by Mr. Mellon was based on an estimated surplus of $328,000,000.

Discussing the excess over first estimates, the secretary said none of it could have been counted on when figures for the year were prepared. Some $50,000,000 of it he explained came from a cash payment by the British government, which heretofore has been using American government bonds to make its payments on the war debt while another $55,000,000 came from the sale of railroad securities, held from war settlement days by the railroad administration. March tax payments also exceeded expectations as did the payments, June 15, when incomplete figures show about $345,000,000 was paid in.

A proposal has been made to use the first three floors of the Pym Tower as a restaurant, a dance hall and a tea room.

Baby's Own Tablets Are Effective and Easy to Give

You do not have to coax and threaten to get the little ones to take Baby's Own Tablets. The ease with which they are given, as compared with liquid medicines, will appeal to every mother. None is spilled or wasted; you know just how big a dose has reached the little stomach. As a remedy for the ills of childhood arising from derangements of the stomach and bowels, they are most satisfactory.

Mrs. Rose Voyer, of No. 27 Arnold's lane, Willimantic, Conn., says: "I used Baby's Own Tablets in the Canadian northwest and found them a wonderful medicine for children's troubles, especially indigestion and constipation. I have also given them to my children for fever and the restlessness accompanying teething and they always gave relief. I can recommend Baby's Own Tablets to all mothers."

Baby's Own Tablets are guaranteed to contain no opiates and to be perfectly safe for the youngest child. They are sold by all druggists or will be mailed, postpaid, on receipt of price, twenty-five cents per box, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.—Adv.

REFRESHING BREEZES AT THE COMMODORE

Take a walk up to the Commodore ballroom any of these warm evenings and you will be delighted with the cool breeze that is to be found in this particular spot. The location being on the hill opposite the South common there is always a refreshing wind blowing and it is most welcome on these evenings when the temperature is at a high mark.

Tonight "Blat" Hallott will be the attraction with his famous Broadway orchestra. If you have not heard this real jazz orchestra this is the only opportunity afforded the present week. Featuring all the latest in dance music you will find an interesting dance program at this popular resort. The admission tonight will be 10 cents. Lowell lodge of Elks will hold its annual Rose party and dance in this hall on Friday night and the event promises to be one of the social affairs of the present summer season. The proceeds will be devoted to the Boston convention committee of the lodge.

UNITED STATES TIRES ARE GOOD TIRES

There are Balloon Tires—and Balloon Tires

BY this time the facts about the advantages of Balloon Tires are pretty well known and accepted.

Briefly—almost perfect shock absorption, easier riding, higher speed over rough roads, less wear and tear on the car, increased braking effect, decreased tendency toward skidding.

The question of balloon tires comes down to this:

- (1) Do they give service?
- (2) Should I get them?

In so far as U.S. Royal Cord Balloon Tires are concerned, the answer to the first question is emphatically "Yes".

They are made by the largest rubber organization in the world and one of the largest producers of low air pressure tires.

They are built of Latex-treated cords—by the method developed, patented and owned by the makers of U.S. Tires. They have the combination of flexibility and strength which is the first and foremost requisite. They are accurately balanced—safe and easy to steer at all speeds.

Now for the second question:

Before you attempt to answer it, or let anyone answer it for you in an advertisement or booklet, you should see the U.S. Sales and Service Dealer.

He is in close touch with the nearest U.S. Branch and can help you to determine whether you should change to U.S. Royal Cord Balloon Tires (for 20 and 21 inch rims)—U.S. Royal Cord Balloon-Type Tires (built to fit present wheels and rims)—or stick to U.S. Royal Cord High Pressure Tires.

It depends a great deal on your car and how you use it. See the U.S. Sales and Service Man.

Bay State Delegates Find New York Hospitable

Massachusetts delegation to the Democratic National Convention, writes that New York is doing everything possible to make the visit of the delegates an enjoyable one. Incidentally the Elcho makes quite a hit with our friends from other parts of the country."—Adv.

EVERY TEAM IN AM. LEAGUE EXCEPT ATHLETICS CHANGED POSITIONS

Detroit Goes Into First Place—Yanks Drop Double Header to Senators—Red Sox Lose Twin Bill and Fall to Fourth—Indians Take Two From White Sox

NEW YORK, June 24.—The American League race is fast developing into an eight ball juggling act. Connie Mack's Athletics are the only team capable of maintaining a stable equilibrium from day to day. While Philadelphia keeps a death grip on last place by the comfortable margin of six games, the other seven clubs shift positions with bewildering frequency. Every outfit in the circuit except the White Elephants today occupied a different step on Ban Johnson's staircase from that which it graced yesterday.

Detroit went into first place by remaining idle because of rain, while succeeded the former Brooklyn school boy in the second game. Hoyt has reigned in favor of a pinch-hitter.

Connie Mack's charges with nothing at stake, derived the satisfaction of pushing the Red Sox down the totem pole with 2-0 and 6-3 shoves. Berra, Harris and George Murray engaged in a pitcher's duel in the first encounter, in which the latter was slightly out-generalized. "Lefty" Helms' experience was too much for Rutledge, one of Fohl's recruits, in the closing tilt.

The Giants still hold the Indians sign over Brooklyn. By the decisive

New York dropped a double-header to the sensational Senators, who won their 14th victory in the last 21 starts and advanced from fourth to third place, only one point behind the Yankees. The Red Sox, losing both ends of a double bill to the Athletics, slipped to the fourth rung of the ladder, one-half game ahead of St. Louis. Cleveland tied the Browns for fifth by winning two games from Chicago, 4 to 3 and 4 to 1, which in turn, moved from sixth to 7th place, only four and one-half games behind the league-leading Tigers. The margins of the Senators' two victories over the Yanks were 5 to 3 and 4 to 2. Moxkridge bested Jones in the opener and Shawkey spoiled Hoyt's pitching duel with Zachary when he				ninth straight victory and their 10th win out of 12 starts against the Robins this season. "Dutch" Ruether was knocked out in the first inning, Brooklyn's only redeeming feature was the batting of Wheat, who made four hits. Wilbur Cooper, the Pirates' ace, outpitched Adolfo Luque, the Red star, and Pittsburgh beat Cincinnati 4 to 2. Gray's fielding played a prominent part in his team's triumph. In a twin bill featured by home runs, Philadelphia scored a two-play win over Boston, by scores of 7 to 4 and 11 to 7. Joe Schultz, recently acquired by Phillies from the Red, lined out two circuit drives, one with the bases full. Cy Williams, Steng and Couch also hit four base blows.

LATHAM ELECTED TRACK TEAM CAPTAIN

David Latham, one of the illustrious twins, who figured so prominently in track athletics at the high school this past spring and winter, today was elected captain of the team for next year. He will be a year-round captain, leading both the indoor and outdoor squads and is the first boy to be so honored. James Daley was captain of the 1923 indoor team and Whitman Pearson led the outdoor squad. Dave Latham, as well as his brother, Ernest, were members of the Lowell high two-mile relay team at the Pennsylvania carnival and during the indoor season was a consistent point winner in the middle distance runs. He is just completing his junior year and should develop into a star of the first magnitude in 1926.

TO ADVERTISE SALE OF PROPERTY FOR TAXES

The staff of City Treasurer Fred H. Bourke is rapidly completing the work of describing properties, the owners of which are delinquent in the payment of taxes.

Mr. Bourke said this morning that he expects that his office will commence the advertising for sale of the property on or about the end of next month.

FELIX KING TO MEET NELSON AT NASHUA

NASHUA, June 24.—The Nashua Driving club, which recently staged a most successful open air show on the theatre grounds, has another high class card arranged for tomorrow night. It will be put on out of doors. In the event of rain, however, it will be presented in the theatre. Felix King will face "Wild Cat" Nelson of Brooklyn in the main event. This is expected to develop into a terrific slugfest. In the semi-final Bernie Cowette, sensational Manchester lightweight, will meet Wally Terroux of Nashua in a bout to settle the state lightweight championship, with the winner promised a bout with Billy Murphy of Lowell. In the preliminaries Paul Ouellette of Nashua will meet Pauling Dave of Haverhill and Youngman of Nashua will tackle K.O. White of Milford. The first bout will go on at 8.15, daylight saving time.

SUZANNE LENGLEN AND MISS WILLS ON BILL

WIMBLEDON, England, June 24.—(By the Associated Press) Much of the interest of the gallery in the Wimbledon lawn tennis championships shifted today from the center court to No. 1, where the first matches were scheduled in the women's singles. Suzanne Lenglen, world champion, and Helen Wills, American titleholder, were both on the bill, and everybody was eager to see whether the former had lost anything of her past prowess and whether the latter could retrieve the misfortunes of her early play here.

It was the general expectation beforehand that the Californian would prove to have overcome the handicap of climate, unaccustomed courts and heavy balls to which her recent defeat by Mrs. Overell was largely attributed. Her opponent today was Miss Lillian Scherman.

Farthings are seldom used in England, and are almost unknown in the northern boroughs.

BLACK GOLD LAST IN LATONIA PRELIMINARY

LATONIA, Ky., June 24.—Western candidates for the Latonia Derby, to be run next Saturday, were given their preliminary at Latonia, yesterday, and Black Gold, the most highly regarded of all, was the one found wanting. The horse that won three Derbies this year for Mrs. R. M. Hoos of Oklahoma, showed a dull performance and finished last in a field of seven starters in a mile and an eighth dash.

Chilhowee, the winner, ran the distance in 1:50 4-5, and was pushed throughout by Gibleon and Lord Martin. King Corin II, Altwood and Bourbon Boy finished in the order named ahead of Black Gold.

Horsemens generally were of the opinion the triple Derby winner had not done enough work since his victory at Maple Heights and thought yesterday's race should put him on edge for the mile and a half journey on Saturday.

Mad Play, Mr. Muir, Klondyke, Bracadaile and other eastern candidates for the Latonia Derby are expected to leave New York for Latonia today or tomorrow.

Billy Evans SAYS

A belated slide has, for the time being, rubbed the New York Americans of the services of one of the greatest young players to break into the majors in years.

I have reference to Outfielder Earl Combs, for whom the Yankees paid something like $50,000 last winter to the Louisville club of the American association.

Recently in a game at Cleveland he started a late slide into the plate, his spikes caught, and his leg was so badly injured that it was necessary to carry him off the field.

The first slide in a dangerous play unless perfectly executed. Done improperly, it invariably results in injury.

A majority of players find it necessary to slow up a bit prior to the slide, so they may properly position themselves before hitting the dirt. Of all the great base runners I have ever seen in action, Cobb, I believe, is the only one to start his slide at full speed.

Most necessary of all, in order to get the full advantage of the slide, is to properly gauge the distance. It is imperative that the runner go into the bag at full speed, and yet be able to stop short into the base that he will not overslide.

The late slide is the bugbear of baseball. It means that the player must hit the dirt without giving thought to distance and position. Usually the spikes catch in the turf and the player suffers a leg injury.

Combs could have scored standing up. In running to the plate he so judged the play that he did not believe it necessary to slide. One of his teammates, thinking Combs was to be thrown out, yelled slide as he was almost on the plate.

Seeking to obey orders, he slid into the plate late, didn't have time to raise his speed or distance and, as a result, will probably be out the rest of the season.

His loss, coming at a time when his services are badly needed, will be sorely felt by the New York club. A fine fielder, very fast, and a great hitter, Combs would have been a regular from the start on any club other than the Yankees.

Joining a club that had won a pennant and a world series, it was only natural that he didn't have much of a chance to break into the lineup, despite his admitted ability.

Baseball managers are superstitious. They follow precedent closely. Seldom will they tempt fate.

Working along these lines, Miller Huggins started the season with the lineup that had won for him a world's championship. That's merely common sense.

ATTACKS TREATMENT OF "NICKY" ARNSTEIN AND "BIG NICK" COHN IN N. Y.

CLEVELAND, June 24.—Declaring that the more serious the fracture of the skull, the less serious the brain injury is likely to be, Dr. C. A. Ley of Pittsburgh, addressing the convention of the American Institute of Homeopathy today, attacked the "attitude of comparative hopelessness in the treatment of brain injuries that has allowed these patients to be almost neglected in the general hospitals."

Dr. Ley described the mortality rate from skull fractures as appalling. "If the patient recovers, remarkable—he had a fracture of the skull; if he dies, well, he had a fracture of the skull," is the attitude taken by many doctors, he said.

FLAG FOR DOVER STREET SCHOOL

Monday afternoon a beautiful silk flag was presented to the lower grades of the Dover street school by the Benjamin E. Butler Women's Relief Corps, Post 75. Mrs. Charles S. Young made the presentation.

Miss Gardiner accepted the flag in the name of the school and Miss Alice Lee, supervisor of primary grades, addressed the pupils. The student body sang patriotic anthems and there were recitations by Vera Myron, Harold Sanford, Nancy Hosmer, Erker Brownell and Ruth Peary. Nancy Hosmer sang "The Flag for You and the Flag for Me."

The exercises closed with "The Battle Hymn of the Republic and America."

NATIONAL PUBLIC LINKS TOURNAMENT

DAYTON, Ohio, June 24.—Play in the qualifying round and the Harding cup match of the national public links tournament got under way today.

One hundred and thirty-six golfers will attempt to get into match play, a distinction for the 32 men with the lowest qualifying round scores.

The qualifying round will be spread over two days, 18 holes being played today and 18 tomorrow. Eighteen four-men teams will battle for the Harding cup, given each year to the city which has the low gross score for the four men. Chicago, last year's winner, is again entered, along with New York, Boston, Worcester, Mass., Springfield, Mass., and other cities.

The first 18 hole score of the qualifying round will count toward the Harding cup.

Earl Combs his big chance. Had he not been injured he would have been rated a star by the close of the season.

Perhaps, some time, someone will invent a substitute for the spike, which although necessary to the game is the cause of many serious injuries.

"NICKY" ARNSTEIN AND "BIG NICK" COHN IN N. Y.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Jules W. (Nickel) Arnstein, prominent in Wall Street band thefts and his companion, "Big Nick" Cohn, who were convicted of taking stolen securities from New York to Washington, D. C., are in New York again. It became known today that both were brought secretly to the Tombs from the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas.

They were taken from the federal prison, where both are serving two year terms, upon an order issued by a federal judge for their examination in bankruptcy proceedings brought against Arnstein four years ago.

JOHN TERRIS MAKES HEROIC RESCUE

Sunday afternoon a tragedy was narrowly averted when John Terris of 11 Bleachery street rescued John Dunham of Bridge street from drowning in the Concord river. Several boys, among whom were Terris and Dunham, secured canoes and went paddling on the river. One of the boys, captivated by the boat that held young Terris and Dunham, instinctively all struck out for the shore and it was not until these on the bank noticed Dunham's distress that anyone knew he could not swim. Several lads called to those already in the water that some one was drowning. Terris immediately turned and went to the rescue. He reached the sinking boy just as he went under for the third time.

Although fully clothed, except for his outer shirt, Terris seized Dunham by the hair and slowly swam back towards the shore. Several times Dunham slipped from his grasp, but by the dint of much effort they finally were able to touch bottom, and willing hands helped them ashore. Young Dunham did not lose his head when he found himself sinking, instead he helped his rescuer by remaining perfectly still until they were safe. Terris made light of the incident. The two boys work together in the Dunting mills.

When Terris was asked what he thought when he saw his friend drowning, he answered: "When anybody's drowning, you don't stop to think; you try to save him."

HELD DANCING PARTY IN COBURN HALL

A dancing party was held last evening in Coburn hall of the high school by the senior class of the school and marked the final social event of the school year. The entire evening was given over to dancing and music was furnished by a "pick-up" orchestra led by Ray McKittrick.

The affair was in charge of the senior day committee, which is composed of the following: Elmer Elliott, chairman; James Daley, Francis M. Holland, Francis Campbell, Ernest Spencer, Esther Brennan, Beatrice Britton, Alice Donohue, Doris Hill and Nettie Rostler.

The Misses Annabel Lowney, Mary Tobin, Agnes McCarthy and Ruth Eaton of the school faculty were matrons of the evening.

MINSTREL SHOW AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

A minstrel show was given by members of the high school graduating class in Coburn hall yesterday afternoon as one of the events of commencement and was largely attended by class-mates of the performers. Alpheus Achlin, president of the senior class, was interlocutor and his introductions created considerable amusement. The other principals were members of the class who have been active during the past four years in school social activities.

The program follows: In the Evening, Chorus Stepping Around. Joseph Casey I'm Drifting Back to Dreamland. Alice Shehan The Collegians of '98. Broadcasting WIW

[what-is-what]

YOU radio fans probably will smile a bit at my WIW, and wonder just what I am going to say on what you know my favorite topic to be: proper motor lubrication. After all, as the Veteran Motorist, I am privileged to discuss WIW, or What is What in motor lubrication.

I have been driving a car for over 20 years and have gone through the experiences which befall most of us. I have made my mistakes, too. But since Socony Motor Oil came on the market, I have stopped worrying about lubrication. Furthermore, I have stopped paying excessive repair bills. I used to be one of those chaps who thought it economical to save 10c on the gallon, and then perhaps pay $140.00 three months later "for repairs and overhauling." I do not do it any more. Since then I've filled up on Socony Motor Oil and forgotten my worries and saved money. That's why I insist upon broadcasting a good thing. That's why I am never weary of proclaiming that Socony is WIW in motor oils.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 3

While Jack stood, looking around, Flip suddenly sniffed several times and then dashed down a narrow passageway. "Come back here!" shouted Jack. But Flip was out of sight in an instant. Jack figured that something was up so he ran after his dog to see what it was.

After turning a few corners, and working his way through great piles of trunks and boxes, the little adventurer came to a small open doorway. Then he heard Flip whine. Stepping inside the door, Jack discovered that he was in the ship kitchen. And so was Flip.

The odor of cooking fish had attracted the dog and Jack found him trying to pull a pan off the stove. The cook was so startled when Flip dashed into the room that he jumped upon a table. "Hey, you!" shouted the cook, "get your dog out of here!" (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Olive Roberts Barton

A TRIP TO SCOTTLAND

"GOOD EVENING," SAID THE TWINS POLITELY

The next night when Johnny Jump Up came to dance on the Twins' window sill in the moonlight, they were waiting for him, all dressed and ready to go.

All except the little shoes which Johnny carried in his pocket. "Are we going on a journey to-night?" cried Nick.

"We are if the moon doesn't blow up," answered Johnny Jump Up, making a funny face. "But the moon man says that he thinks it's not likely to blow up because it's made of ice mostly."

"Then were going," said Nancy happily, running up to the little fairyman and taking the tiny shoes he held out.

Just as before, as soon as they touched the shoes, they became as little as gumdrops.

"Follow me," commanded Johnny Jump Up next. So all three climbed out of the window and down the rose vine into the magic garden.

Johnny Jump Up did a string of somersaults across the rosey beds, not touching a flower, but when he reached a patch of blue-bells, he stopped.

"Tingalingaling!" went one big blue-bell when he shook it.

"Hoot mon, who's there?" cried a tiny little fellow, popping his head out.

"It's me, Sandy. I mean it's us," said Johnny Jump Up quickly. (Johnny never had gone to school and his grammar was awful.)

"Sandy, this is Nancy and Nick. Nancy and Nick, this is Sandy, the Scotch fairy, who lives in the blue-bells."

"Good evening," said the Twins politely.

"Gud een, bonnie bairns," said Sandy, tipping his funny cap. Indeed, all his clothes were different from any the children had ever seen.

"I have brought you tickets," he said. "If you are going to Scotland tonight, you had better be starting."

"So we had. Where's that ticket?" asked Johnny. "He's our express train and ocean-boat and airplane all rolled into one. Timmouse, oh, Timmouse, where are you?"

"Here I am," said Tommy Timmouse, flying down from a tree. "Where are your tickets?"

After he had punched them with his bill, all three of the travelers, Nancy and Nick and Johnny Jump Up, piled on Tommy Timmouse's back, and away he flew over the land and sea to Scotland. It was moonlight at home but daylight there and they could see everything.

Scotland was certainly a bonnie country, as Sandy would have said. The highlands were beautiful, full of green ferny places and lovely waterfalls and clear streams where water-cress grew.

And there were fields and fields of heather, a low plant of a purple color that is beautiful in the sun.

And there were great cities where people were hurrying to and fro, never guessing that up in the air three curious little people and a bird were looking down at them.

Suddenly they heard a funny noise. It went squee-squee-roar-and then made some more sounds that were more like growling than music.

"Those are bag-pipes," said Johnny Jump Up. "They look as odd as they sound, but the Scotch people love them. But we must be going back to the magic garden now. Timmouse, please take us home."

HARVARD CLUBS' BOOK PRIZE AWARDED

The Lowell Harvard club, in conjunction with the New England Federation of Harvard Clubs, today presented its annual book prize to Artemus J. Stewart of the senior class of the high school.

The award was made at an assembly of the senior class at the Memorial Auditorium this forenoon, by Richard Brabrook Walsh, president of the Lowell club. With him as club representatives were James F. Conway and Allan M. Dumas.

The book given this year is a beautifully bound copy of Lord Charnwood's "Life of Roosevelt" and the inscription upon it, "For Marked Excellence in Character and Scholarship," fully explains the reason of the award.

JUDGE PICKMAN HOLDS INQUEST HEARINGS

Judge John J. Pickman presided at two inquests in the court of second sessions this morning. One concerned the death of Stanley Klepac, who was killed by a freight train in Wigginsville on June 5, and the other the death of Fred White, who died as the result of being struck by an automobile in Andover street driven by David Billson. The fatality occurred on June 14.

AMENDMENT TO DOWN TOWN TRAFFIC RULES

An amendment to the downtown traffic regulations will go into effect next Saturday, when vehicles will be forbidden making a left turn from Central street into Market. Superintendent Atkinson announced this morning.

The new rule, to be effective during the rush hours, between 5 and 9.30 p. m., suggests itself, says the chief, because frequent tie-ups have been noted in this area, the entire Central street system being disturbed by autoists bound for Market street. Beginning Saturday, therefore, no machines coming down Central street in the direction of Market, will be allowed to turn into Market street.

THEATRE ADMISSION PRICES REDUCED

On July 3, in connection with the announcement of the federal government that luxury taxes on amusements on tickets up to and including fifty cents will be abrogated, three of the largest local theatres, B. F. Keith's, the Merrimack Square and the Rialto, will scale down their admission prices for the public's benefit. The Royal and Crown theatres will make similar reductions.

The managers of these three playhouses, Mr. Pickett of Keith's, Mr. Peterson of Merrimack square and Mr. Melnicoff of the Rialto, today announced the ticket cost reductions, to become operative at midnight on July 2. Of course, the reduced prices at Keith's, as pointed out by Mr. Pickett, actually will not be felt by theatregoers until his house reopens about the middle of August, but then will be in effect.

The discontinuance of the tax means much to the general public and is as interesting a bit of news as has been made public locally for some time, because of its widespread effect.

The discontinuance of the tax at the B. F. Keith theatre means that five admission prices will be reduced and one remain as at present. The ticket which will not change is the 75 cent admission plus an 8-cent tax, making a total of 83 cents. The reductions will be as follows: From 55 cents to 50 cents, from 33 cents to 30; from 30 to 25, from 25 to 20 and from 17 to 15.

At Keith's the tax has been added on to the established price, while at the Merrimack Square the tax has been included in the established price so that the reductions there will be as follows: From 35 to 31 cents, from 20 to 18 cents and from 15 to 13 cents. The Merrimack Square does not have any 50 cent admissions and therefore all its prices are to be cut down.

At the Rialto theatre the established matinee price of 10 cents will remain the same, not having been subject to tax, but the present evening admission of 25 cents will be reduced to 20 cents, thus relieving the public of the penalties which now go to the government.

Since congress announced the repeal of the admission tax, the question has been under constant discussion there has been some what of a division of opinion as to the proper step to take. Some chains are going to give the public the benefit of the tax, as will be the case in Lowell, while others will absorb the tax, claiming that an increase in prices is necessary to meet running costs. The plan whereby the public will benefit easily will enjoy the most popularity.

PLUM SEEKERS RAID DESK AT CITY HALL

Plum-seekers were rewarded yesterday at city hall. While this is rather an off season for plums at the municipal palace, there was an abundance of them yesterday. There is no kidding about this—the tale is as straight and true as a plum line.

The plums referred to were Nature's own, and not, as one might at first suppose, of the political variety. One of the hard-working scribes at the hall bought a bag of plums yesterday and left same in the so-called "press desk" in the council committee room.

Plum-seekers raided the desk and the scribes, the self-same fellows who last week stuck their elbows in the newly-varnished and unlabeled window sills at the hall, had another score to settle with the administration. The boys sure have their troubles, if anybody cares to know.

CONVENTION OPENS AT NOON

Democrats Meet to Lay Down
Platform and Find a Presidential Nominee

Indications Point to Votes
Being Distributed Among
20 Candidates

NEW YORK, June 24.—The democratic convention set out today to lay down a platform and find a presidential nominee.

The opening program, beginning at noon, daylight saving time, gave light indication of the seething undercurrents of clashing ambitions and opinions that have bewildered the delegates for days and are likely to rock the convention for many more days after disposal of the formalities of temporary and permanent organization.

High Notes of Today's Session.

The high notes of today's formal prelude to the impending spectacle in Madison Square Garden were the keynote address of Senator Harrison of Mississippi as temporary chairman, appointment of the resolutions, rules, credentials and other committees, sundry speeches and action on a resolution of respect in memory of Woodrow Wilson.

The delegates, however, were not given a day off by any means, for the actual start of the convention—midnight though it might be—served as a signal for redoubled efforts by the campaigners for the host of candidates for the presidential nomination and by sponsors of the numerous platform proposals.

With most of the state caucuses out of the way, the campaign workers for the various candidates and advocates of this or that declaration of principle seized the moments of freedom left to the delegates prior to the convening of the opening session today to press their claims.

Activity in All Camps

The McAdoo and Smith forces, moving at a swift and rapidly accelerated pace, swept on with their appealing drives, and the Underwood camp, its enthusiasm raised even higher by the Alabama senator's presence, also put on more speed. Likewise, the supporters of John W. Davis, Senator Ralston, James M. Cox and the numerous more or less dark horses, seemed to find the going to their liking.

Although the platform and rules reports will give the 1935 delegates their first chance to do battle for their opinions in the traditional manner, many of them expect the majority of such issues to be settled in committee after today's session and look for the real fighting on the convention floor to start Thursday or Friday, when the balloting on candidates begins.

McAdoo and Smith Lead

Indications today are that the votes will be distributed on the initial balloting among at least 20 candidates, with William C. McAdoo having up the start about 450, Gov. Alfred E. Smith, approximately 250, and Senators Underwood and Ralston, John W. Davis and James M. Cox, about 50 each.

Others who will be in at the beginning, at least—and some of them have "first-last-and-all-the-time" supporters—include Gov. Siler of New Jersey, Senator Ferris of Michigan, Senator Glass of Virginia, Gov. Jonathan Davis of Kansas, Senator Harrison of Mississippi, Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Gov. Brown of New Hampshire, Gov. Bryan of Nebraska, Gov. Sweet of Colorado, former Senator Kaibury of Delaware, and Senator Kendrick of Wyoming.

Monster Demonstrations

Monster demonstrations are being planned by the big camps when their candidates are placed in nomination, and much time was devoted by the members today to working up the sentiment of their supporters to the highest possible degree.

Under the somewhat tentative program devised by the convention managers the nominating speeches will be made tomorrow to give the resolutions committee time to build a platform out of the mass of material prepared largely in advance for its consideration.

Fight Over Rules

The caucuses yesterday and last night emphasized rather than diminished the uncertainty that prevails generally among the delegates as to the outcome of their labors. No definite trend presaging a fight to amend the two-thirds nominating rules emerged from the caucuses, but the subject would not down in lobby gossip and it was said one of the leading candidates might make a move in that direction during the balloting if his vote should exceed a simple majority. Much dissatisfaction with the unit rule was expressed in the caucuses, and this offered the most likely prospect of a fight over rules when they are taken up tomorrow.

CONVENTION NOTES

NEW YORK, June 24.—Souvenirs for friends are being distributed by the principal campaign headquarters.

Razors wait at the offices of Gov. Alfred E. Smith and by mistake one was put in his hand by an enthusiastic booster. A friend of the candidate said: "Does that mean a close shave for you, governor?"

"No," retorted Mr. Smith, "it indicates safety for us."

Twelve hundred policemen, operating in two shifts, were assigned today to the Madison Square Garden zone for the protection and guidance of convention delegates and visitors. A special detail of 320 policemen and 50 plainclothesmen also have been added to the regular forces in the Times square section, where the bright lights blossom for those who have time to frisk and play after dark.
